6 Army Fliers Killed As Ship Crashes In Rain

And it came to pass after many days, that the election was over, the superior court judge had set, and a few deputies dismissed. And there came by day and by night delegations from the tules into the high places of political dispensary to file credentials for employment, so many in fact that chief dispensers took to the tall timber.

It was a field day for "tools to rush in" and claim credit for many things they were not responsible for. So the Ananias's of campaign chicanery gathered in great numbers to present their claims for political preferment. So great was the press that the line formed to the right and many of them got left.

And there was great wailing and gnashing of teeth among those who expected to enter the promised land; and so great was the disappointment that fulminations were heaped upon the heads of those who were expected to deliver appointments and could not do so. For unto those who have places to be filled they can only fill so many places.

Day unto day uttereth speech, but what is hoped for cannot always be delivered. Which recalls a time when a party worker expected more than was promised, and when it could not be bestowed his wrath was heard unto the farthest parts of the county. And for many days thereafter there was sackcloth and ashes abroad in the land for such of those who cared to wear it. Yea, verily, do not place your faith where you have no justifiable expectancy. And to those who have not been promised, nothing should be expected.

Verily, verily, great are the disappointments of politics. The turns of the day are insufficient unto the evil thereof, for they are oftentimes misleading and heart-breaking, for what they reveal today they deny tomorrow. From whence comes that modern axiom: "Taking the joy out of life."

And in those last days came a voice from the corridors of public office crying "unfaithful, unfaithful." The old tu Brutus, stuff. So a few of the boys found themselves slipping into private citizenship, revising their political estimates, speculating as to the future, and recapitulating the past. It was ever thus with the political wheel of fortune—or misfortune.

For politics has peculiar quirks when it comes to reward. To those who have, more is sometimes added, and to those who have not that's what some of them still have. But the rancor of the day are continuing their intriguing participation, and try and keep out of it!

However, as for me and my household, nothing is expected, hence there will be no disappointments. It is better to have been on the losing side than to have more outstanding obligations than you can fill, and be on the winning side.

For what you were prior to election you are not after election. Which over a long period of observation has puzzled me why so many people seek the grief that politics, while it may not guarantee, always delivers. And many a successful candidate lives unhappily ever after.

And it came to pass when the ballots were all counted a number of public officials discovered the voters had sent them an invitation to retire to private life, while others were accepted into public observation. From whence comes public scrutiny, and either approval or disapproval. Judgment in suspense during term of office.

But the game of politics, according to Frank Kent and others who have to follow its idiosyncrasies for many years, changes little in its general applications, but is quite variable in its finances. Seidman is it over-supplanted, frequently not self-supplanted.

Big Bomber Hits Georgia Downpour, Falls In Woods

LAGRANGE, Ga. (AP)—The storm-bred crash of a twin-engine army bombing plane in an isolated woodland last night killed six army fliers and severely injured another. Major W. O. Maxwell, field operations manager from Maxwell field, said the bomber had clearances papers for eight when it left Mitchell field, N. Y., yesterday on a routine flight to Maxwell field at Montgomery, Ala., but just before a crew member died in a LaGrange hospital he told Maxwell only seven were aboard when the ship fell.

SEARCH CALLED OFF
On this information, Major Maxwell called off the search for an eighth body in the smoldering wreckage but could not immediately say which name should be eliminated from the list of the plane's occupants he had released earlier. He said the ship apparently landed somewhere on route south and one man left the plane. The heavy ship was on a routine flight from Mitchell field, New York, to Maxwell field at Montgomery, Ala., when it was caught late last night in one of many downpours that swept across the south.

RESCUERS DELAYED
A negro heard the crash and saw the flames rising from a timber thicket seven miles northeast of here about 10 o'clock last night. He came here for help but it was hours before rescuers could force along a mud-bogged dirt road and through a two-mile country lane to the crash scene where the craft had plowed a 150-yard path through pine trees.

DIES IN HOSPITAL
Second Lieut. John Madre and Private Joseph J. Nanartowich were brought into a hospital here and Nanartowich died a few hours later. Madre was badly hurt and physicians said he might die. Air corps officers here announced the following were aboard the plane when it left Mitchell field: Crew: Second Lieutenant R. Kiecklaff, Black, air corps; Second Lieutenant Roff McKenchie, air reserve; Second Lieut. Allan M. Howery, air reserve; Second Lieut. John D. Madre, air reserve; Staff Sergeant Harry T. Jones, 99th bombardment squadron; Private Joseph J. Nanartowich, 99th bombardment squadron.

Passengers to Maxwell field, en route to home stations: First Lieutenant James W. Stewart, medical corps and Corporal Galloway, 3rd weather squadron, Dallas, Texas, initials unavailable.

PRESIDENT TO GO TO GEORGIA

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt worked today to clear his desk of a mass of business transferring the center of governmental activity to the southland for the next two weeks.

He will leave late tomorrow for Warm Springs, Ga., where between swims in the health resort's outdoor pool, he expects to hold conferences on the new legislative program. There is a possibility, too, that Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson will go there when he returns from Berlin to give Mr. Roosevelt a first-hand account of the happenings in Germany.

WITS AND WIND will figure in attempt by Capt. Ben Fine (above) of the Gertrude L. Thebaud, to defeat the Canadian "Bluenose" in race off Boston.

2 Held As Officer Attacker

Two 17-year-old Anaheim youths were under arrest today faced with felony hit-run charges growing out of the serious injury of an Orange police officer Thursday night.

Officer A. H. Westerman suffered a badly cut foot and bullet wound in the hip when he was struck by the youth's car, police said. His gun discharged in his holster as he fell.

PPPEAR VOLUNTARILY
Voluntarily appearing at the Orange police station, Douglas Hartell of route 1, box 161, Anaheim, and Tommy Arbutnot, 537 West Broadway, Anaheim, were under arrest today.

They will appear for arraignment before Justice of the Peace Cal D. Lester of Orange township at 10 a. m. Monday. Police Chief George Franzen said. Hartell was driver of the car and Arbutnot assertedly was a passenger in the machine, holding goal-posts taken from the Orange high school football field.

CAR HITS OFFICER
Officers Westerman and Thomas came upon a large group of boys pulling down the goal posts about 9 p. m. Thursday. The group dispersed, fleeing in automobiles.

Westerman said he ordered one car to halt, but it swerved toward him and ran over his foot. The accidental discharge of the gun in his holster inflicted a flesh wound in his hip, but did not break any bones.

The episode occurred on the eve of the football game between Orange and Anaheim, old gridiron rivals. At the game yesterday afternoon, a delegation of Anaheim youths reportedly appeared before the Orange rooting stands and publicly apologized for taking part in the raid.

YOUNG MOTHER
ADMITS BABY
ABANDONED
OAKLAND. (AP)—A young mother lay in Alameda county hospital today recovering from untended childbirth and apparently unconcerned about the death a few hours earlier of the infant daughter police said she abandoned in a vacant lot.

The baby, swathed only in a dish towel and placed in a flimsy shopping bag, was found blue with cold yesterday morning. She died 10 hours later.

Inspector Thomas Duffy said criminal charges probably would be filed against the mother although final action rested with the district attorney.

Duffy quoted her as saying, "I was afraid of Joe." Joe is her husband. "My husband has been accusing me of going with other men," Duffy said she told him. "When I found I was going to have a baby, I was afraid of what he would say. So I hid the truth from him. I told him I was developing a tumor. I don't know whether I deceived him or not. But I don't dare tell him the truth."

The mother said the child was born Wednesday while her husband and three children were not at home.

Joe Pozich, warehouseman at an Oakland cannery, was amazed at the story police told him. "I just can't believe it," he said. "She wouldn't do a thing like that."

Pozich remained at home today caring for their other three children.

FORREST FIRE RAGES
MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—A forest fire over a three-mile front swept seaward through valuable pine timber 20 miles northwest of Mill valley today, with little prospect of being brought under control immediately.

A high wind thwarted fire fighters. The blaze which local officials said probably was caused by deer hunters, started yesterday, crossed one ridge, and at noon today was about 2 1/2 miles from the shoreline.

Times Agrees To Mend its Ways at Last

The Los Angeles Times promised the Santa Ana chamber of commerce today it would change its policy.

The newspaper said it would hereafter refrain from calling Southern California's desert wind a "Santa Ana" wind. The proper name for the wind is "santana." Norman Chandler of the Times-Mirror company, wrote Secretary Howard I. Wood of the local chamber to that effect today after Wood protested the naming of the windstorm the "Santa Ana winds."

Wood pointed out that "It is generally recognized that the wind is not peculiar to Santa Ana nor is Santa Ana the correct name."

Wood also enclosed in his letter of protest an editorial from the Santa Ana Journal criticizing the Times.

PRAYER LEGAL IN TREATMENT, COURT IS TOLD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Defending Mrs. Lillian Volstad and Rev. William W. Alvis, Apostolic preacher, against manslaughter charges, Claude A. Watson, lawyer, contended today that prayer is a "legal means of cure in California."

The two were accused of trying to cure Mrs. Volstad's son, Francis, 9, of a ruptured appendix with prayer, when a physician urged an immediate operation.

The operation finally was made under a superior court order, but too late and the boy died last Aug. 9. Mrs. Robert Maves testified yesterday she went to the Apostolic mission to get her sister, Mrs. Volstad, to listen to the physician's advice and she was about to leave when members of the congregation crowded about her, shouting:

"He will be cured. He will not die."

Another sister, Mrs. Malcolm Morris, said when she went to the mission she was told by Rev. Mr. Alvis to "mind my own business."

Mrs. Volstad wept violently in court when Detective Lieut. E. I. Clark told of taking Francis to hospital under court order and said the mother refused to go with her son. The boy's grandmother finally went with him.

Mrs. Maves testified Francis said he would rather die than go to a hospital, and that his last request was for the pastor to pray for him.

The trial will be resumed Monday.

NAZIS BORROW $600,000,000

BERLIN. (AP)—The German government announced today the issuance of its fourth loan this year in the form of treasury bills amounting to 1,500,000,000 marks ($600,000,000) at 4 1/2 per cent interest, redeemable at par from November 1, 1939 to 1958.

The reichsbank was to offer the bills to the public at 98 1/2 per cent from November 28 to January 9, 1939.

The reason for this fourth loan, following less than two months after the third of 1938 was raised, was attributed officially to need "to meet liquidity in the money market."

The third loan was announced October 1 "for continuing the tasks assumed by the reich government." It also was for 1,500,000,000 marks on the same terms and was oversubscribed October 25.

200 WORKERS SUFFOCATED

PERPIGNAN, France. (AP)—Travelers reaching the Spanish border from Barcelona today said from 200 to 300 workers were suffocated yesterday in a munitions factory fire at Hospitalet, a suburb.

Navy to Build 3 Big Ships

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The navy department awarded contracts today for the construction of three battleships at an expected cost of well over $150,000,000.

One will be built in Newport News, Va., another at Quincy, Mass., both in private yards, and the third at the Norfolk, Va., navy yard.

4TH CONTRACT DELAYED
The contract for a fourth battleship was not awarded, pending further study of bids by the navy department.

The Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation of Quincy, Mass., was awarded the contract for construction of one battleship at a cost of $49,815,004, the company to furnish the main propelling machinery but not to develop the plans for the battleship.

Another battleship will be built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company at a cost of $49,540,000.

5 TO BE BUILDING
The third ship, to be built in the government's yard at Norfolk, will cost approximately the same amount as the other two.

The awards increased to five the number of 35,000-ton battleships building.

To the cost of the hulls and machinery must be added about $26,000,000 for armor, guns and ammunition to be provided by the navy. Congress was told this year the new battleships should cost less than $71,000,000 each complete.

FINAL BLAST OPENS 13-MILE M. W. D. TUNNEL

BANNING. (AP)—The 13-mile San Jacinto tunnel, difficult "bottleneck" of the Colorado river aqueduct system, was holed through today as a mighty blast ripped away the last remaining granite barring the way to completion of the largest domestic water system ever constructed.

The tunnel was completed a few minutes after 10 a. m., and the ceremony was broadcast from an tower in Banning, where the water will be taken from the Colorado river, and from the tunnel site itself, where B. C. Leadbetter, superintendent of the tunnel project, spoke of the difficulties encountered.

From its intake behind Parker dam, the Colorado river aqueduct will extend 392 miles to 13 cities in the Metropolitan Water district—Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Compton, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena, San Marino, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, Torrance, and Los Angeles. It will deliver 1,000,000,000 gallons of water daily.

GAMING RAID IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Police broke down the door of a private home in a fashionable Hollywood district early today, arresting nine men on suspicions of conducting a tango game and reported they confiscated equipment and $75 in cash.

Leading the raid were Patrolman W. J. Wiltsie and Sergeant Sack Eberlin, who said they entered the house attired in evening dress and mingled with 150 guests until a dozen other officers arrived. Two women fainted as police walked in.

Burglars' Reward Only Exercise

LITITZ, Pa. (AP)—Burglars battered the combination of a safe in the Long and Company coal firm office, then blasted it open with a nitro glycerin charge. Their chagrin over finding nothing of value probably would increase several degrees if they knew the safe wasn't locked in the beginning.

Nazis Forbid Use Of Word 'Jehova'

Refugee Plan Hits U.S. Snag

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Senator Borah (R., Idaho) expressed the opinion today that any attempt to revise the immigration laws so as to take care of additional refugees from Germany would arouse "tremendous opposition" in congress.

"I do not believe it desirable to undertake to change the immigration laws at this time," he said. "Any possible change would be wholly inadequate for real relief."

JEWISH HAVE HOPE
President Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that he had no thought of liberalizing present quotas which restrict immigration from Germany and former Austria to 27,370 persons annually.

Some Jewish leaders, however, have suggested the possibility of admitting 80,000 or so refugees immediately by "mortgaging" the quotas for the next three years. Under this proposal, the three years' quotas would be admitted and the gates then closed until the end of the period.

PRESIDENT CHALLENGED
Another congressional comment came from Chairman Dies (D., Tex.) of the house committee investigating anti-American activities who challenged the right of the President to extend the six-months' visitors permits under which from 12,000 to 15,000 refugees have been admitted.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that he had asked the labor department to grant six-months' extensions. He added that he would present this problem to congress and that if it did not act, the permits might be extended again.

The law, he said, does not limit the number of extensions.

800 RETARD FIRE'S SPREAD

UPLAND, Calif. (AP)—Weary fighters reported progress today in efforts to control southern California's worst forest fire in years, but officially it was still out of control.

Foresters said 800 men, attacking on four fronts, appeared to be slowing the fire's progress, aided by a drop from 50 to 20 miles in velocity of winds which swept San Anilimo and adjacent canyons in which the blaze centered.

Some 8000 acres of virgin timber in the federal government's experimental reforestation and erosion control tract had been burned, with thousands of acres more of dense brush.

ANTI-SEMITISM FOUND IN U. S.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The house committee investigating anti-American activities received testimony today that there was "a rising tide of anti-Semitism and anti-religious feeling through the country."

The witness, John C. Metcalfe, committee investigator, asserted the "situation in Europe" has contributed to anti-Semitic feeling in this country.

Metcalfe testified 135 organizations had been reported to the racial or religious hatred.

Budapest Awaits Ruthenian Plea

BUDAPEST. (AP)—A delegation of Ruthenian leaders was awaited today as reports circulated that they were bringing petitions with 50,000 signatures asking annexation to Hungary of the autonomous section of Czechoslovakia, now named Carpatho-Ukraine.

Bund Leader Plans Drive On U. S. Jews

NEW YORK. (AP)—Fritz Kuhn, German-American bund leader, has announced the bund will campaign "to rid this country of Jews."

Kuhn told a rally of the organization in Queens last night he would pattern its program after that of Adolf Hitler.

The bund leaders declared the American Press and radio were controlled by Jews "who are trying to smash this country even as they tried to ruin Germany."

Referring to the national administration as the "Jew Deal," Kuhn said Jews had begun to dominate American politics.

"Germany was made poor after the World war by Russian and Polish Jews who came into the country and grabbed everything," Kuhn said, "leaving nothing for the Germans. Germany must get its wealth back."

Former Magistrate Joseph Goldberg, who sat among the spectators, left the hall in anger after Herman Roth, a lawyer, shouted: "We must smash the shield of Abraham once and for all."

"I am going to report Roth to the authorities and ask that he be indicted," Goldberg said. "He should be locked up for inciting to riot."

Vets Protest

INDIANAPOLIS. (AP)—A resolution denouncing the German government for its anti-Jewish acts was adopted today by the American Legion's executive committee. Copies were sent to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull.

"We denounce and deplore," the resolution said, "the policy of the German government and protest against the religious and economic injustice and persecution of minorities as detrimental to the interest of humanity and civilization."

Out of Fair

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—An order to cancel Germany's plans to exhibit at the Golden Gate International Exposition here next year was received today by exposition officials.

Major O. J. Keatinge, director of foreign participation, said Kurt Byer, designated by the German government to supervise that nation's exhibit, informed him the order had been called from Germany.

15,000 Fired

ROME. (AP)—Fifteen thousand Jews were said by usually reliable sources today to have been dropped from government and private jobs in the past four days.

The action was in compliance with the sweeping cabinet decree of Nov. 10 excluding Jews from government positions restricting their businesses and professions and forbidding their marriage to Italian arians.

Swiss to Aid

BERNE, Switzerland. (AP)—The Swiss government today granted permission for a limited number of Jewish children in Germany to enter Switzerland temporarily.

Fire For Churches That Balk

BERLIN. (AP)—The German word "Jehova" taken from the Hebrew for God—was ordered erased from protestant churches in Germany today, while authenticated reports indicated Jewry had given more than one life for the slaying of a German diplomat.

An order of President Friedrich Werner of the Supreme Evangelical church council said the name of the God of Israel must be rubbed out wherever displayed in protestant churches as well as the names of the Jewish prophets—all those of the old testament.

TORCH THREATENED
The action followed threats in parts of Saxony that Christian churches permitting such names to remain would be set afire, as were Jewish synagogues last week when a wave of anti-Semitic violence broke out.

Some theologians said, however, the order did not have the force of law. It was expected a large part of the clergy would not obey it.

There is only one other German word to take the place of Jehova—Gott.

MISSING BOY'S BODY FOUND

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP)—The ranger station at Portal reported to Douglas authorities today that the body of 5-year-old Jerry Hays of Bisbee, missing a week, had been found at Buckskin canyon Saddle.

The tot's body was reported found by a sheriff's deputy one and one-half miles from Buckskin Canyon Saddle.

The discovery climaxed a search by nearly 1000 men including soldiers from Fort Huachuca, CCC workers, sheriff's deputies and other officers.

Mess Kit Returned After 20 Years

WAPWALLOPEN, Pa. (AP)—Clarence Deets has recovered that mess kit he lost 20 years ago in the Argonne. A chance conversation disclosed Reamer Hirenman, of nearby Berwick, found it in the World war battlefield, never had heard of the owner whose name was scratched on the aluminum and brought it home.

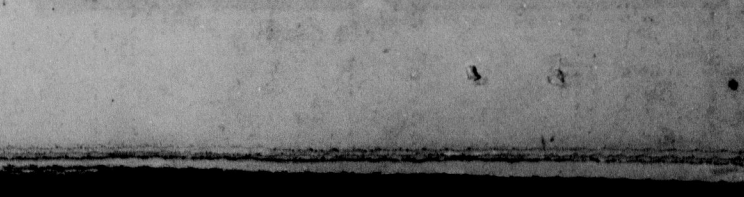

Papers Seized

BERLIN. (AP)—Seventy-seven foreign newspapers were seized today and their sale forbidden.

The reason apparently was that the papers contained descriptions of anti-Jewish activities in Germany.

POMONA MAN ELECTED

CHICAGO. (AP)—Paul Endicott of Pomona, Cal., is the new second vice president of the United States Building and Loan league. He was elected here yesterday, together with Clarence T. Rice of Kansas City, president.

Mrs. Walter Young, 521 Beverly, has been in Los Angeles for the past few days visiting her mother.

O. J. Bolton and Ray Humphrey of Santa Ana, and J. E. Huston of Huntington Beach, were in Bakersfield last Friday looking over the various oil fields. They report a widespread activity in Kern county.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Jacques, 501 East Seventeenth street, have returned from a two months tour into the southeast, including Florida and other southern states, with a stop at New Orleans.

Two thousand tickets, selling for 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, will go on sale here Monday at Neale's Sporting Goods store and Al's Lock and Key shop for the Santa Ana-Fullerton Junior college football game at Fullerton Thanksgiving day, it was announced by D. K. Hammond of the junior college.

There will be no American Legion Junior auxiliary meeting Monday afternoon, but members are invited instead to the membership dinner being held that night at Veterans' hall. All American Legion daughters are urged to attend, and may make reservations by calling Mrs. Eugene Robinson, 1231-W.

Miss Mary A. Kiser of Kona, Hawaii, is visiting at the home of her father, H. N. Kiser, 334 Halesworth street.

OVERTHROW OF PARIS CABINET IS DEMANDED

PARIS. (AP)—Two rightist political parties today joined the Socialists and Communists in calling for overthrow of Premier Edouard Daladier's government because of its financial program.

Francois de la Rocque's French social party which, as the Croix de Feu, led the bloody riots against a previous Daladier cabinet in February, 1934, called the premier's program "dangerous and inopportune."

The French people's party, headed by Deputy Jacques Doriot, declared the new financial measures "threaten only the working man."

Candidates to succeed Daladier when parliament meets December 6 already have been put forward in the chamber of deputies. The most favored appeared to be former Premier Edouard Herriot, now president of the chamber.

Today Daladier is governing France with a majority of the deputies against him. His own party split last night on the financial program, nine of the 112 radical Socialist deputies voting against the program and 31 abstaining from voting.

At least 320 of the 618 votes in the chamber can be counted against Daladier.

The Communists called a huge mass meeting for tonight at the Paris sports palace to protest against the financial decrees. Hundreds of police were assigned to patrol the streets in the vicinity.

Financial Investigator Ambushed and Slain In New York

POLICE CAN'T FIND SINGLE MURDER CLUE

NEW YORK. (AP)—Two killers lay in ambush outside an apartment building in a quiet Queen's residential district last night and shot down John F. O'Hara, young financial investigator for Dun and Bradstreet, Inc.

The apparently studied slaying left police today without a clue or motive. O'Hara, 26, a respectable businessman who was graduated from Syracuse university in 1933, lived quietly with his mother and 16-year-old sister.

O'Hara's assailants lay in wait for him at an entrance to the 500-family apartment house and felled him with two shots. In their flight to a waiting automobile, they turned and fired twice more at O'Hara's prostrate body. A policeman's 8-year-old son was wounded in the arm by a ricocheting bullet.

O'Hara returned to New York two weeks ago from a New Orleans inquiry for his firm. Money found in his wallet eliminated robbery as a motive. Police extended their investigation to cities where O'Hara has recently made financial surveys.

Patrolman Joseph Monahan, whose son was wounded, was just approaching the apartment as the first shots were fired. He drew his pistol and chased the two men down the street. He said there apparently were other men in the car at which he fired several shots.

Preliminary examination disclosed that O'Hara was shot in the neck and head.

ROCKY IS THE ROAD these Bartlett dam buttresses must climb, reaching an upper level of the 270-foot multiple-arch dam being built on the Verde river in Arizona. This is the right abutment. The dam, which is four-fifths complete, comprises arches built at an angle and supported by these buttresses. The dam will create a reservoir of 200,000 acre feet capacity to serve the additional irrigation needs of the highly developed Salt river federal reclamation project.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE NAMED BY L. A. BOARD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Davis A. Davidson, who as inspector of detectives was popular among the rank and file of the police department, was Los Angeles' new chief of police today.

He was appointed by the police commission to succeed James E. Davis, who had headed the department during the regime of recalled Mayor Frank Shaw, and immediately announced a number of changes in the department personnel.

Previously to naming Davidson acting chief, the police and fire pension board accepted Davis' resignation and awarded him a pension of $300 a month for life.

Davidson, 46 years of age, is a veteran of 24 years in the police department. He will serve as chief until a full-fledged chief can be selected by civil service examination which is scheduled to be held within 60 days by Mayor Fletcher Bowron's new civil service commission.

Meanwhile, the county grand jury will resume its inquiry Monday into civil service job sales in the police and fire departments.

Davidson placed Deputy Chief Roy E. Steckel, chief under the Mayor John C. Porter administration, and until now in charge of the Lincoln Heights jail, was given full charge of the Metropolitan division.

NAZIS FORBID 'JEHOVA' USE BY CHURCHES

or brother lost their lives last week.

CHURCH TO BALK
The order to eradicate "Jehova" was certain to be disobeyed by the so-called confessional church of which the imprisoned preacher, Martin Niemoller, is dead. It claims to represent at least a majority of the 10,000 pastors of Prussia and Saxony.

On the other hand, Werner, who has authority only in north Germany, probably will find the Thuringian clergy ready to follow his "advice." Thuringia is the chief center of the so-called German Christians, the Nazi branch. PLAN PREVIOUSLY MADE

The newspaper Boersenzeltung said Nazi leaders long before this outbreak and the subsequent $400,000,000 fine imposed on the Jewish community, had made ready to despoil Jews financially. It declared that "the promptness with which the bill was presented shows the preparations had been made long in advance."

"All informed persons knew that financial action was bound to follow political action in the process of Aryanization."

"Vom Rath's murder only precipitated this intended course of action."

NO COMPASSION

The outbreaks, in which synagogues were burned, Jewish-owned property destroyed and thousands of Jews arrested, followed close on the shooting of Ernst Vom Rath, German embassy secretary in Paris, by a young Polish Jew, Herschel Grynszpan.

Addressing a Nazi business organization last night, Robert Ley, chief of the Nazi labor front, declared "there must be no misplaced compassion for the Jews."

"By fattening on our population they have incurred a debt that can never be wiped out."

Munich reports said several wealthy Jews of Nuernberg, home of the radically anti-Jewish Julius Streicher, had been taken into labor front headquarters there and forced to sign away 90 per cent of their homes, shops and other property to the labor front. Then they were told to leave Nuernberg within three months.

"Red" Dawson's Question Box
By LOWELL (RED) DAWSON

QUESTION: Why does a coach use the same offense from year to year?

ANSWER: It is unwise to change the offense from year to year, as experience develops confidence and execution. The execution is more important than design, providing fair judgment is used. Attributes for a winning team are morale, poise and determination, and confidence supplies the first two to a large extent.

NEW CIO WILL TRY TO UNITE ALL WORKERS

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—The new Congress of Industrial Organizations, molded from the old CIO, equipped with a constitution and set of policies, and led by the veteran labor champion John L. Lewis, moved into the main street of labor history today committed to two objectives:

Organization of the unorganized workers of America on an industrial basis (one big union for one industry).

Peace and unity in the labor movement with recognition of the principle of industrial unionism.

On these terms the new CIO left open the door to peace with the American Federation of Labor yesterday after closing its first constitutional convention in the city where the rival craft unionists began their organization 57 years ago.

The noisy, highly demonstrative convention, working under the gavel poundings of the CIO high command, elevated Lewis to the first presidency by acclamation, filled lesser offices and the seats around a 38-man executive board, and passed reams of resolutions.

The record of five day assembly disclosed that the question of labor peace was considered the most important matter before the convention, but no one professed to know how or when labor peace would be achieved.

The round of debate on the peace issue filled the convention hall with the same demands heard at the AFL convention in Houston last month—"We want an honorable peace."

Muzzle-Loading Rifle Match to Be Held at Irvine Park Sunday

COSTUMES OF OTHER DAYS WILL BE WORN

Time will fly backward tomorrow in Orange county.

From all parts of Southern California men and women dressed in freakish costumes of a by-gone day will converge at 9 a. m. at the rifle range north of Irvine park.

It's the sixth annual muzzle-loading rifle matches of the Southern California Arms Collectors association, and approximately 50 contestants—all dressed in old-fashioned costumes—are expected to participate in the day-long event.

As in years past, hundreds of spectators will be at the range to watch the muzzle-loaders crack away at the targets.

Some of the guns which will be in the shooting once blazed death against the British Red Coats, some dealt death in the Civil war, others were used by early-day frontiersmen to push the line of civilization westward.

Seven flintlock muzzle-loaders dating back to the Revolutionary war will be used, in addition to several Civil war sniper rifles ranging in caliber from .35 to .60.

"Buckskin Bud" Sackett of Anaheim will shoot a Kentucky rifle seven feet in length.

Every bullet shot tomorrow is handcast. Only black powder will be used.

Some of the guns weigh 30 to 40 pounds, and they have to be fired from a prone position.

It'll take all day because loading a muzzle-loader requires several minutes' work.

There will be 10 matches shot during the day, including a flintlock match, first-timers match for those never having competed in a muzzle-loading rifle event before.

Match officials include Shelly B. Horton, chief range officer; Francis Davis, Buck Bemis, clerks; and James Sweet, scorer. All are from Santa Ana.

Members of the executive committee of the Arms Collectors association are Dr. Roy S. Horton of Santa Ana, C. C. Cowles of Santa Ana, and Col. C. E. Stodter of San Diego.

President is Glenn S. Echols of Laguna Beach, vice president is Lowell Bolin of Santa Ana, and secretary-treasurer is Gene Bayard of Whittier.

There are about 75 members in the association in Southern California.

AUTHOR SAYS PLOT PIRATED

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—A decision of the United States circuit court of appeals today held that Twentieth Century-Fox studios must defend itself in a copyright infringement suit brought by Joan Storm Dezenford, author of the unpublished play, "Dancing Destiny."

Miss Dezenford's suit, which had been thrown out of court by a Los Angeles federal judge, was reinstated by the circuit court.

The plaintiff alleged she submitted her play and that it was returned by the studio as "unsuitable." Later, she charged, she saw the studio's production of "Stowaway," and declared the plot was pirated from her play.

Shirley Temple was the star of "Stowaway."

The round of debate on the peace issue filled the convention hall with the same demands heard at the AFL convention in Houston last month—"We want an honorable peace."

Author Takes Up Law And Wins His First Court Case—WEST PALM BEACH, (AP)—Charles Francis Coe, prominent author whose magazine stories generally deal with crime, won his first case as an attorney here yesterday when a criminal court jury acquitted his client, Porter H. Hendry of Moore Haven, of a charge of manslaughter. Coe was admitted to the Florida bench recently.

Hendry was charged with the manslaughter after the death of Cottrill L. Thompson, 37, of this city. The state charged Thompson died of injuries received in a fight with Hendry following an automobile accident here last January.

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Physicians sought a surgical way today to gratify the wish of Lila "Mickey" Higgins, 24, born a girl, to become a man.

In superior court for sentencing on charges that she stole $12,000 from a firm where she was employed as a male cashier, Miss Higgins was sent to a hospital for observation on orders of Judge Ingal W. Bull.

Dr. Glenn E. Meyers reported to the court: "The patient told me she has always considered herself a boy and that she had numerous fights in which she has been able to knock men across the room."

Girl Prisoner Ordered to Hospital, Asks Operation To Change Her Sex to Man

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Rodney Dutcher, Washington columnist, was found dead at his desk today, a victim of a heart attack.

Dutcher, 37, was manager of the Washington bureau of the NEA Services, Inc., a Scripps-Howard news, feature and picture syndicate.

A native of Martha Vineyard, Mass., Dutcher had been in the newspaper business since he was 16, starting his career in Worcester, Mass. For the last 11 years, he had been writing a daily column dealing with national and political affairs.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Fumigation

The lethal chamber of the modern prison has its counter-part in one of Orange County's major industries—fumigation.

Just as men pay the supreme penalty in the death chamber for their crimes, pests which infest citrus fruit are killed by the swift, certain action of poison gas.

Aim of the fumigator is to kill the red, black, or purple scale which may be on the fruit. The fumigator handles poison gas more potent than dynamite. A whiff may take a human life, so he has to be careful.

Fumigation is done by putting an airtight tent over the tree, then filling the tent with poison gas. The gas comes out of a "hot gun," being pumped into the tent in given dosages. For a human to step into a gas-filled tent would mean almost instant death—the same as in a lethal chamber.

The gas is made from a mixture of cyanide, sulphuric acid and water. It is condensed into a liquid, placed in the "hot gun" pump, comes out into the tent as hot gas. It's called hydrocyanic acid.

Action of the gas is to smother the scale on the fruit.

Amount of gas pumped into the tent is based upon the size of the tree. Percentage of cyanide varies according to necessity. A scale ranging from 77 per cent to 133 per cent is used by fumigators. A percentage of 100 would mean one ounce of cyanide to 100 cubic feet of space.

It's a simple matter to determine the percentage of cyanide needed. The distance around the tree is measured, and the height of the tree is measured on the tent. A table quickly shows the unit of dosage needed, and the "hot gun" can be set accordingly.

Crews for each fumigation rig vary from about four to six men, depending upon the size of the tent. One is the foreman who oversees the job, another who sees that the tent is tucked close to the ground to prevent gas from escaping, the others to lift the tent into places over the trees.

The poles are from 16 to 24 feet in height. Some of them are seasoned for a year before being used, just to make them as light as possible.

Fumigation is done in the winter and summer. Repair of tents and equipment is done in the spring. Fumigation will not kill the eggs of the citrus scale, so the hatching season must be watched. Citrus trees are fumigated as soon as possible after the pests have hatched.

Purple scale is killed in September, black scale in July and early August, and the red scale in winter months.

Since the rays of the sun create a chemical action in the gas, causing burn and heavy drop of foliage, all fumigation work is done at night. Fumigation cannot work when the temperature is higher than 70 degrees or lower than 40 degrees. The humidity must not be below 40. Neither can fumigating be done when the wind is blowing or it has rained.

Each tree is fumigated for a period of 50 minutes. Bill Graves says his Tustin firm of Aldrich, Graves, and Howley fumigates an entire row at a time. At the end of 50 minutes, all the tents are moved to the next row.

At the Tustin firm, 1825 tents are kept on hand. Canvases are purchased in bales, and three sewers fashion the tents. Tents last all the way from three to seven years.

The tents are repaired every spring during the lull. The tents are spread over wooden horses. Wherever there's even a pinhole, the sunlight shines through and it is repaired.

Pest control work in the county is under the direction of the agricultural commissioner. The law requires that pest-infested orchards be controlled to prevent spreading to neighboring groves. Fumigation is one of a number of methods of pest control, and it, too, is under the direction of the agricultural commissioner.

The commissioner can order fumigating operations to stop when conditions deem it fit. (He can halt spray rigs, when, for example, a strong wind is in the offing).

Fullerton Scouts Receive Awards

FULLERTON.—Star Scout, second class and tenderfoot awards were made to members of Fullerton troop 80 of Boy Scouts at a court of honor sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States Thursday night. Arthur Yarbrough received the star scout award. Tenderfoot badges were awarded Armitage Taylor, Dick Freck, William Pettis, Raymond Green, David Hammond and Charles Clark. Second class scout awards were presented John Daniel, Bert Dillon, Stewart Hunter, Joe Keith, John LaRue, Jr., Robert Pemberton and Jack Wees.

Sheppard Will Re-introduce San Juan Hot Springs Measure

PURCHASE OF 1015 ACRES TO BE ASKED

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Renewal of a campaign to create a public health resort at San Juan Hot Springs will be made by Congressman Harry Sheppard, he told Dr. Spencer Miller of Laguna Beach and other leaders of the project in a conference here this week.

Congressman Sheppard said he would re-introduce a bill which will provide for the purchase by the forestry service of a tract of 1015 acres, including the springs and adjacent groves and camp grounds, from the Santa Margarita ranch corporation.

Dr. Miller stressed the point that it is not intended to build a sanitarium or hospital at the springs for the treatment of any contagious disease, but that the project would create a huge public playground for the enjoyment of all the people, with the possibility of an adjacent but separate camp for convalescent crippled children.

Officials of the Santa Margarita ranch corporation had priced the property at $75,000, but the United States forestry service appraisers fixed a valuation of slightly more than half that amount. Now that the ranch owners have subdivided most of the adjacent property and are offering it at low prices, backers of the Hot Springs project believe a compromise might be reached.

MANY OFFERS MADE FOR PIER AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH.—Numerous offers to lease the $110,000 municipal pier are being received by the city council even before wrecking work on the old pier is completed.

The PWA project will not be completed until next April, but numerous requests are being made for concession rights.

Most attractive of the offers has come from Joseph Stusak of Los Angeles, who is seeking a 10-year lease to operate on a graduated scale beginning at $800 a year and going up to $980 for the last year.

City councilmen will delay action until they make a careful study of lease agreements of other cities on their piers.

Stusak's lease offer, submitted with a cashier's check for $1785, was returned for resubmission at a later date.

WATER PLANT DEAL OFFERED

PLACENTIA.—The city council has offered to purchase from the Southern California Water company for $35,000 the Placentia water system, which would be made a nucleus of the proposed municipally owned water plant.

H. V. Anderson, superintendent of the Southern California Water company, said he would place the offer before the directors of the company, but protested the firm's investment of approximately $80,000 in the plant here, and expressed the opinion the company would not accept the offer.

State Bar Plans Action Against 'Heir Chasers'

LOS ANGELES.—The state bar association plans to take a stand against the "heir chasing" racket in a statement of policy to be issued by Paul Vallee, association president, here early next week.

Announcement was made after a state directors meeting here yesterday that the state bar has been investigating legal firms which look up probate records on the filing of estates, then contact heirs and obtain assignments of large parts of the inheritances to aid in collecting them.

Olson Wants Aid Of State Senate

SACRAMENTO.—Gov. elect Culbert L. Olson hoped today for cooperation in "constructive state action" from the Republican senate as well as from his fellow Democrats who control the assembly.

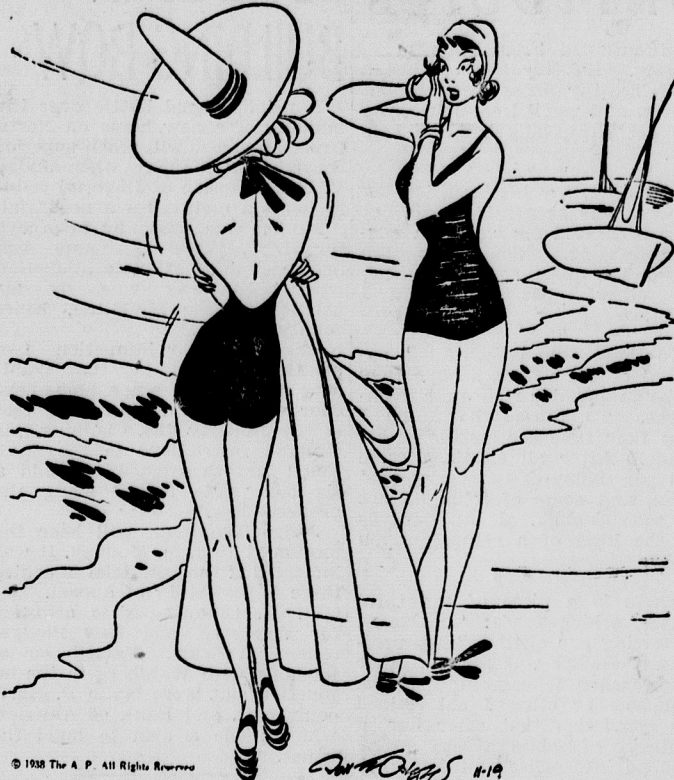

Olson said he would recommend taxes to balance state expenditures and that whether such expenditures can be reduced depended upon further federal relief assistance.

FARM CENTER AT VILLA PARK WINS AWARD

VILLA PARK.—The Foothill Farm Center today has received an award from the California Farm Bureau federation for having the third largest farm center membership in California.

Roberts Union Center, near Stockton, took first prize with a membership of 323. Foothill had 270 members during the past year. Executive Secretary C. J. Marks of the Orange County Farm Bureau reported today upon his return from Sacramento.

J. A. Smiley of Orange was re-elected chairman of the edible nuts department of the state farm bureau as another highlight of the convention.

Orange county took first place for the largest delegate mileage.

WISER TO TALK MONDAY NIGHT

YORBA LINDA.—Ray B. Wisner, president of the California Farm Bureau federation, will be principal speaker here Monday night at a meeting of the Yorba Linda farm center at the Women's clubhouse.

Membership workers of the county farm bureau will be honored at the co-plimentary dinner, as a feature of the meeting, it was announced by Executive Secretary C. J. Marks.

Although membership workers will be guests, all other farm bureau members will have to pay their own way, Marks said.

Octagon Club of G. G. Assembles

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. A. J. Woodworth entertained members of the Octagon club at her home on Stanford avenue Thursday afternoon. A salad course was served early in the afternoon at small tables decorated in a Thanksgiving theme.

Mrs. Eugene Thomas was awarded the prize for high score in contract bridge and second high went to Mrs. Russell Sullivan of Santa Ana. Names were drawn for the gift exchange at the Christmas party to be held Dec. 15 at the home of Mrs. Charles Hunt in Anaheim.

Present were Mesdames F. C. Arnim, Eugene Thomas, Russell Sullivan, of Santa Ana; Charles Hunt of Anaheim, A. C. Robbins, Claudine Irvine, Olive L. Ford and A. J. Woodworth.

Wine Campaign To Cost Millions

SAN FRANCISCO.—An advertising campaign beginning early in 1939 is expected by the California Wine Institute to boost the use of wine throughout the United States, both as a table beverage and as a colliary aid.

The campaign will be financed by an assessment on bonded wineries and storerooms which in three years is expected to raise a total advertising fund of $2,000,000.

Fire Truck Speed Cut To 20 M. P. H.

DANVILLE, Pa.—If fire trucks in this town of 7000, can't get to a blaze going 25 miles an hour, the building will just have to burn. Chief Burgess Harry E. Trumbower imposed the speed limit and warned $5 fines would be levied for violations.

Tuberculosis is reported to be 13 times as prevalent among diabetic children as among those who do not have diabetes.

TWO LIQUOR LICENSES IN COUNTY DENIED

The state board of equalization upon recommendation of William G. Bonelli, fourth district member, had taken action today on three Orange county liquor licenses.

The board's action on Sept. 14 in revoking the license of Mona Harris, operator of the Studio club in Laguna Beach, was changed after a re-hearing to indefinite suspension.

The board continued until next week the protest of the Orange county board of supervisors against on-sale beer license to J. A. Smiley of Orange, who is a resident of the state farm bureau as another highlight of the convention.

Application of Antonio Rios, El Montecito, for transfer to him of an on-sale beer license in Placentia was denied as the applicant did not qualify for license.

Throughout the fourth district, the eight southern counties, the board revoked eight licenses, suspended 17 others, and denied 29 applications for licenses.

W.C.T.U. AT DOZIER HOME

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. E. M. Dozier opened her home on Chapman avenue Wednesday to members of the W. C. T. U. and the First Baptist church. The roll call was answered by Bible verses on Thanksgiving.

The Rev. William Keech, pastor of the First Baptist church, brought a message on the theme of the garden of gratitude. Mrs. Addie Miller reported 59 quarts of jam, 18 pints of jam, nine glasses of jelly, delivered to the W. C. T. U. home for women at Eagle Rock. The home was visited by Mesdames Lettie Smith, Margaret Knott, Hilda Miller, Emma Noble, Estelle Harper, Nellie Amos and Mary L. Miller.

A motion picture carried commendation for Supervisor John C. Mitchell for his efforts against the opening of a gambling hall on Euclid avenue.

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Robert Dozier and Miss Ethel Archer. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. Nellie Amos and Mrs. O. O. Bragg. Chrysanthemums were used in decorating the home.

8 DROWNED IN AUTO'S PLUNGE

WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—Seven boys and a man drowned in a hole near an anthracite colliery today when their automobile plunged into 20 feet of water.

Charles L. Perry of the Wyoming Valley Crippled Children's association identified the car as the property of the association. He said the driver, was a chauffeur for the association and was taking boys to a hospital clinic.

All the bodies remained in the car when it was pulled out of the water by a railroad crane.

Democrats Will Dance With Hope Of Paying Bills

LOS ANGELES.—Committeemen for Northern and Southern California for the Democratic "victory balls" to be held during the week of Dec. 4 were announced today by John Gee Clark, chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

John F. Dockweiler, former congressman, will be in charge of Southern California observances while Frank Olson, brother of governor-elect Culbert L. Olson, will be Northern California chairman.

The "victory balls" will be held to raise funds for payment of a campaign deficit of about $50,000 and to set up a small reserve in the state committee treasury.

RAY BRUNEMAN HURT

SAN FRANCISCO.—Ray Bruneman, 33, brother of Les Bruneman, recently slain Los Angeles gambling figure, suffered skull fracture today in a motorcycle accident near Seal Rocks.

20-30 CLUB TO NAME LEADERS IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON.—Officers in the 20-30 club will be elected Nov. 30, following nominations made this week.

Darrel McGavran is the only club member running for president. Vice president nominees include Francis Koonitz, Howard Maxwell, Avery Strech, Russell Sweet, Harold Martin and Don Wiese.

Five members of the board of directors will be selected from the defeated candidates for vice president and two additional nominees, Dean Burney and Russ Black.

Charles Royer, Lenora Roark, Fred Nunlist and Wesley Davis have been nominated for sergeant-at-arms.

Next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday night.

MRS. HOBSON TALKS AT G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. Arthur Hobson, of Orange, was the guest speaker at the general meeting of the Woman's Aid held in the First Methodist church on Thursday. She was presented at the afternoon session by Mrs. E. M. Dozier, program chairman.

Entertainment consisted of vocal selections by Bob Bozer, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dorothy Howell, piano solos by Harvey Bryan and Leonard Schauer, poems by Mrs. Dozier and articles on world events read by Mrs. J. O. Arkley, public affairs chairman.

The business meeting conducted during the forenoon was in charge of Mrs. J. H. Chilcote. Plans were discussed for the district Federated Aid meeting to be held at the First Methodist church on Jan. 24 with Mrs. Conrad Schreff, Mrs. Edward Chaffee and Mrs. H. A. Lake in charge of the dinner.

Mrs. C. N. Franks, Mrs. Ralph Chaffee and Mrs. E. R. Schneider were appointed as a committee to replace broken dishes in the church kitchen.

A report on boxes of food articles sent to the Spanish-American Institute at Gardena was given by Mrs. E. R. Schneider. Mrs. Ralph Chaffee read Bible verses and led in prayer. Luncheon was served by the different circles to 50 members.

W.C.T.U. AT DOZIER HOME

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. E. M. Dozier opened her home on Chapman avenue Wednesday to members of the W. C. T. U. and the First Baptist church. The roll call was answered by Bible verses on Thanksgiving.

The Rev. William Keech, pastor of the First Baptist church, brought a message on the theme of the garden of gratitude. ESCAPE TO HOLLYWOOD

Linda Bailey's father has been considered Centerville's wealthiest citizen, but when he dies, she learns that he has left her practically nothing. Wishing to escape from the townfolk, she decides to go away—to Hollywood to have a try at the movies.

But the protests of Fred Lancaster, who has expected her to marry him, she sets out in her car. On the way, bandits rob her of all but a dollar, empty her gasoline tank and leave her stranded in the middle of the California desert. A good-looking young man, who introduces himself only as "Martin," gives her a push to the next gas station.

Then drives on. She spends her last dollar on gasoline, but knows this won't last long. She hits upon the plan of stopping between towns, pretending she is out of gas, and thus getting a series of pushes. She is parked at the roadside, when Martin drives up again.

CHAPTER IX
"Oh! It's you," said Linda, in a small voice.

Martin nodded. "It's me." "But I thought . . . I supposed you had gone on."

"I stopped for lunch." "Oh."

Linda was desperately trying to think of some explanation to give him for being parked here, but she couldn't.

"Are you out of gas again?" he asked mockingly.

"Yes, that is . . . almost. You see, I think I do see," Martin said slowly. "I'm coming to the conclusion that you shouldn't be turned loose without a guardian. Parking around on the highway and pretending to be out of gasoline! He sounded very stern."

Linda bristled. "Everything would be swell if you'd just go on and quit bothering me! I've come all this way on about a gallon—and I bet I can get to Los Angeles on what I've got in my tank if you'll get out of the way and let somebody give me another push!"

He was laughing suddenly, whooping with mirth.

Then, he sobered. "Those bandits did steal all your money, didn't they?"

"All except a dollar," Linda admitted. "And I spent that for gas at the place you pushed me to."

"Why did you let me help you?" "My mother always told me not to accept money from a man."

He howled with laughter again. "But you're accepting pushes from anyone who comes along," he pointed out.

"That's different. It doesn't cost them anything to give me a little push. And they go on about their business as soon as they get me to a gas station. They don't lurk in hiding and then pop out at me again!"

"I HAVEN'T lurked—nor popped out," he protested. "I was just driving along, at peace with the world after a hearty lunch, when I saw the familiar sight of your car parked ahead. Well, naturally I had to stop and see what was going on."

"Where did you stop for lunch?" he demanded.

2000 Strike In Mexican Smelter

MONTERREY, Mex. (AP)—Two thousand employees of the American Smelting company went on strike today, demanding higher wages.

Miners at Real Del Monte, Hidalgo state, threatened to strike which affects nearly 4,000,000 persons in the states of Queretaro, Michoacan, Jalisco, Guanajuato and San Luis Potosi continued with no hope for an early settlement.

Linda Bailey's father has been considered Centerville's wealthiest citizen, but when he dies, she learns that he has left her practically nothing. Wishing to escape from the townfolk, she decides to go away—to Hollywood to have a try at the movies.

But the protests of Fred Lancaster, who has expected her to marry him, she sets out in her car. On the way, bandits rob her of all but a dollar, empty her gasoline tank and leave her stranded in the middle of the California desert. A good-looking young man, who introduces himself only as "Martin," gives her a push to the next gas station.

Then drives on. She spends her last dollar on gasoline, but knows this won't last long. She hits upon the plan of stopping between towns, pretending she is out of gas, and thus getting a series of pushes. She is parked at the roadside, when Martin drives up again.

"Will you please go on and leave me alone?" Linda retorted. "I won't have any chance to sign someone to give me a push if you stay parked there in the way."

"I'll save you the trouble." Before Linda realized what he was doing, he had backed away and was driving up behind her. "He needs to be put in his place—that's what he needs."

BUT Martin was not so easily discouraged. Linda's car moved forward inexorably, despite locked wheels. Twelve cylinders beneath the long hood of Martin's car roared in response to the challenge, and a hundred and fifty horse-power was more than Linda's coupe could resist.

Linda released her brakes before her tires were ruined. Then, she turned on her ignition and stepped on the starter. When the motor responded, she put the car in gear and pushed the accelerator to the floor. The coupe leaped away from the heavier car and sped down the road.

Linda laughed gleefully as the gap between the two cars widened. But Martin's car soon came surging up swiftly. He was easily catching up with her.

She sighed and gave up trying to run away from him. It seemed foolish at all once. She settled down to a steady fifty miles an hour and he throttled down behind her, keeping pace.

She would go on until her gas supply was exhausted. Then, she would have to let him help her. But not until she had to.

They went spinning along, mile after mile. Her gasoline gauge went down slowly but steadily.

THEY were fifteen miles from Barstow when her motor began to sputter and gasp. Resignedly, she brought the car to a stop. Martin crept up behind her, again nudged her bumper, and slowly picked up speed.

He pushed her all the way to Barstow, slowed down as they approached a filling station, and let her coast in under her own momentum.

She sat waiting until he climbed out of his car and came up to her. "That's a very pleasant way of touring the open country," he said, with a smile, "but traffic begins to get thicker from here on and it might be safer for you to make it under your own power."

Then, to the attendant, he said, "Fill up the lady's tank."

He sauntered off to a sandwich counter. Presently, he came back with a paper sack of sandwiches, which he laid on the seat beside her.

BRUCE BUELL SINGS SUNDAY AT MELROSE

Bruce Buell, Santa Ana baritone, will be heard in a voice recital at Melrose Abbey chapel 3 p. m. Sunday.

Buell has studied extensively under the direction of Holly Lash Visel and is well known in local musical activities. Miss Ruth Armstrong, one of Orange county's outstanding musicians, will act as accompanist.

A string trio consisting of Jack Lighthart, cellist; Kenneth Akin, violinist, and Edna Walker, pianist, will assist in the program.

A program of unusual excellence has been arranged with Buell singing the following selections: "Caro Mio Ben" (Giordani); "Du bist die Ruh" (Schubert); "Ich Groesse Nicht" (Schumann); "But Who May Abide" from the Messiah by Handel; "Vision Fugitive" (Massenet); "O du mein holder Abendstern" (Wagner); "Voodoo" and "In the Gales" (David Galan); "All Things Come to the Night" (Scott); "My Lady Walks in Loveliness" (Charles); and "Captain Stratton's Fancy" (Taylor).

The string trio will play "Adagio Cantabile" (Beethoven); "Ave Maria" (Schubert); "Andante Sostenuto" (Bergli); "Minuet" (Boccherini); "Andante Cantabile" (5th Symphony) (Tchaikowski); and "On Wings of Love" (Mendelssohn).

The public is invited.

Motorists Given Credit For Cut In Fatalities

CLEVELAND, (P) — America's motorists received a bouquet today from the American Automobile association for their part in reducing the nation's traffic fatalities.

In his report to the 36th annual A. A. convention, Major Roy F. Britton of St. Louis, chairman of the association's traffic safety commission, said:

"While the drop of 20 per cent in traffic fatalities this year, compared with the number a year ago, is attributable to many factors, it is apparent that motorists themselves did much to bring about improvement."

Hospital Board Receives Report

Hospital disbursement of $4175 in Santa Ana during the month was revealed last night at a meeting of Santa Ana Valley hospital board of directors, as compared to $2768 during the same period last year.

At the same time 65 patients were reoperated upon the same length of time as compared to 40 a year ago, according to Dr. G. Emmett Raitt of the board.

Calvary Church Presents Bible Teaching Ministry; Unaffiliated

FRANK E. LINDGREN, Pastor

Every church should be able to justify its existence. With the number and variety of church denominations in Santa Ana the question might arise as to the necessity of such a church as Calvary church. Are there not enough churches and of sufficient variety to accommodate any appreciable number of interested people?

Divisions in the Protestant churches are, mainly, along lines of church government, distinctive doctrines or of temperament. Each person finds, or tries to find, the church that meets his judgment or training. The many who belong to one of the churches are, in fact, either too oppressive or too expressive for the other. It is highly advisable that kindred spirits, humanly speaking, keep together and that separate churches accommodate each.

Where Christian conscience moves is along the line of doctrine. We might be able to adjust ourselves to a change in church policy and even bear with marked emotional differences, but the fundamentals of the faith found in the scriptures are able to make one wise unto salvation through faith in Jesus Christ must never be surrendered.

We find individual regeneration by the Spirit of God still necessary. That this work of God is still in force we have constant proof. The events of the world today prove our Bible true, a "sure word of prophecy" whereunto ye do well that ye take heed."

Calvary church presents a Bible teaching ministry, not catering to fanaticism on one side or modernism on the other. Being unaffiliated, denominationally, the government of the church is as simple as can be made, consistent with order and proper Christian discipline. The many who worship with us as members and friends are doing so because the church best meets their needs. There is no aim to build up a large seven years ago with the present pastor presiding at the first public service. The present membership is 325 with the roll revised often enough to keep only those who are actively interested.

Sunday school attendance averages around the 300 mark each Sunday. A splendid corps of Bible teachers is in charge of the 20 classes.

Along with home evangelistic activities, foreign missionary interests take a major place. With no financial drives, pledges, or subscriptions, and no records kept of individual givers or gifts, depending wholly upon the Sunday plate offerings the church has been able to meet all local expenses and, in addition, giving (last year) $2500 to Home and Foreign missions.

With services in the auditorium of the Ebell Club building, which has been the meeting place since the beginning of the work, Calvary church offers a meeting place for all who "desire the sincere milk of the Word."

SCREEN ATTRACTIONS AT SANTA ANA THEATERS

KORDA 'DRUMS' OPENS SUNDAY AT BROADWAY

All the thrills, danger and romance of life on the Northwest frontier of India will be brought to the screen of the Broadway theater tomorrow when "Drums," Alexander Korda's technicolor production, opens a local engagement.

Sabu, the sensational child star of "Elephant Boy" fame is featured with Raymond Massey, Roger Livesey, Desmond Tester and Valerie Hobson at the head of a cast of 3000 in this exciting cavalcade of empire building photographed in natural color in nature's most dramatic setting.

The stirring story casts Sabu as a brave young Indian prince who, with the help of his Scottish drummer boy pal, is able to foil the fiendish plotting of his power-mad uncle, Prince Ghul, forestall the wholesale slaughter of British troops, which Ghul had planned as a bloody climax of a five-day ceremonial feast, and regain his own rightful place on the throne.

The breath-taking realism which marks the battle scenes and the scenes of Indian tribal life was achieved by invading India's treacherous Khyber Pass, territory which no motion picture camera had ever penetrated. A beautiful romance is contributed by Robert Livesey, the brave captain who undertakes the mission into hostile Prince Ghul's territory, and Valerie Hobson, as the bride who accompanies him to the distant and dangerous outpost, and where she is the only woman among thousands of men.

An entertaining mixture of spectacle, romance, comedy and music is seen in "Breaking the Ice," the Bobby Breen starring picture which will be the second attraction. The spectacle is provided by six-year-old Irene Dare, the world's youngest figure skater; the romance by Dolores Costello; the comedy by Charles Ruggles and the music by Bobby Breen. Bobby sings five new songs in this colorful picture.

MESQUITEERS COME FRIDAY

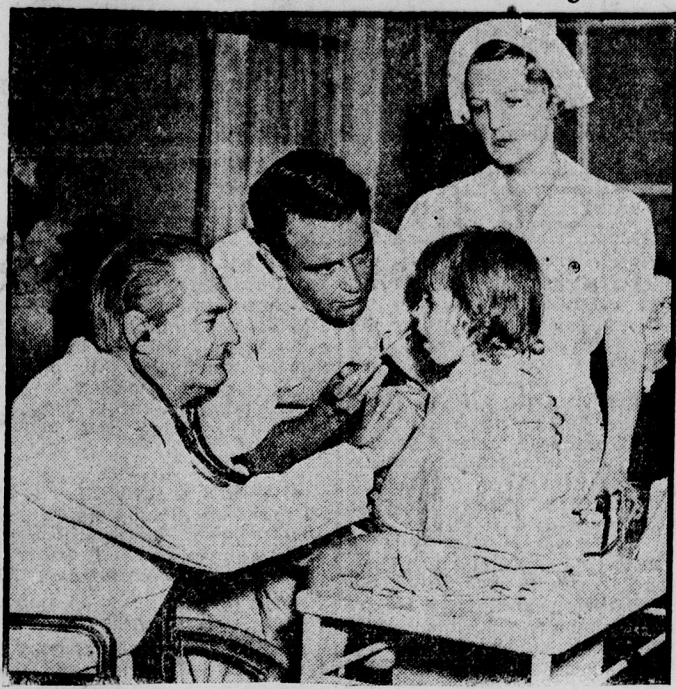

The Three Mesquiteers—Ray Corrigan, Bob Livingston and Max Terrone—are starred in "The Purple Vigilantes," which comes to the State theater next Friday and Saturday.

The story deals with the Mesquiteers' efforts to clean up the wild town of Towns End.

Featured on the same bill will be "Mutts to You," a comedy starring the three stooges; "The Rabbit Hunt," a cartoon and "Flaming Frontiers," a serial starring Johnny Mack Brown.

World news events will complete the program.

At West Coast Today

Child Star at Broadway

SOPHIE LANG PICTURE WILL BE SEEN HERE

"Sophie Lang Goes West," a spicy mystery-adventure story starring Gertrude Michael and Lee Bowman, will be shown at Walker's theater Wednesday.

Miss Michael takes the part of Sophie Lang, a beautiful jewel thief. This is her third portrayal of that part. The supporting cast includes Jed Prouty, Robert Cummings and Barlowe Jorland.

On the same bill for Wednesday will be "On Such a Night," Karen Morley, last seen here in "The Last Train From Madrid."

BEHIND SCENES OF HOSPITAL PUT ON SCREEN

The drama that exists behind the scenes in a great hospital is reenacted with dramatic power in "Young Dr. Kildare," which opens today at the West Coast theater along with "Listen, Darling," starring Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland.

Lew Ayers is starred in "Young Dr. Kildare" in the title role, with a fine cast featuring Lionel Barrymore, Lynne Carver, Nat Pendleton, Jo Ann Sayers and Samuel S. Hinds.

The story presents a realistic view of life inside the walls of a great metropolitan hospital of today. Ayers, as an interne, encounters his first difficulty when he protects a fellow doctor who has failed to save the life of an influential politician. Again, he becomes involved in trouble when he opposed the diagnosis of a prominent psychiatrist who declared a girl patient to be a mental case. For this Kildare is dismissed.

His friend and ally is the veteran Dr. Gillespie, portrayed by Barrymore, whose performance is superb. Eventually, young Doctor Kildare proves himself and is reinstated, opening the way to a career and marriage with his boyhood sweetheart.

"Listen, Darling," is a rollicking comedy of adolescent youth featuring Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland. It deals with the exploits of two members of the younger generation who take it upon themselves to find a suitable husband for the mother of one and run into an amazing set of complications in so doing. Mary Astor plays the mother and the prospective suitors are Walter Pidgeon, Alan Hale and Gene Lockhart.

The story will delight trailer enthusiasts since it is in the family trailer that Judy and Freddie "kidnap" Miss Astor and set out in pursuit of the elusive male. Eight-year-old Scotty Beckett is the only "menace" in the story. Judy Garland sings three songs in the picture.

DEANNA DURBIN TO BE HEARD

Golden-voiced Deanna Durbin stars in "That Certain Age," her latest production, which is coming soon to the Broadway theater and in which she sings five new songs.

With Deanna in the principal supporting role is Melvyn Douglas, with the balance of the cast including Jackie Cooper, Irene Rich, John Halliday, Juanita Quigley, Peggy Stewart, Jackie Searl and Nancy Carroll.

Another picture booked for an early showing at the Broadway is "The Citadel," film version of the famous novel by A. J. Cronin, and co-starring Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell.

FEUD SHOOTING BEFORE COURT

The family feud shooting in Fullerton late last month over a cigarette reached superior court late yesterday when a felony complaint was filed charging Will Officer, 57, of Fullerton with wounding his son-in-law, Bert Norris, in the chest with a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Officer is charged with felonious assault with a deadly weapon after the altercation which will make his plea to Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen next Friday.

Police charged that Officer objected to Norris' smoking because it bothered his asthma and that an argument ensued which resulted in the shooting. Norris was severely, but not critically, wounded.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION IS SENT BY WIFE

"Should I adopt a baby?" Thus queried "Mrs. E. D." through these columns several weeks ago.

"Will women who have adopted children advise me truthfully? Did they learn to love the child, or did they find themselves sorry and looking for flaws?"

As we all know, "Mrs. E. D." didn't lack for advice as foster mothers by the score hastened to write their happy experiences.

Today we are glad to pass on to all of these mothers "Mrs. E. D.'s" letter of appreciation:

Dear Miss Stoddard: How can I express my appreciation to these wonderful mothers who have been so kind and generous in answering the questions I asked in my previous letter?

I would love to know them. I spent so much time thinking of the space I was taking in your column. I'm afraid my letter sounded selfish and skeptical. I'd like to tell you more about us.

Until three years ago my mother was with us and we had such fun doing things for her and making her happy. We only gave youngsters a passing thought. When I say "we" I'd like to make it clear that my husband was sweeter to Mom than I was. Then Mom was taken away from

'BOYS' TOWN' OPENS SUNDAY AT WALKER'S

"There's no such thing as a bad boy."

That statement, made by Father Edward J. Flanagan 25 years ago, is the theme of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Boys Town," which opens at Walker's theater tomorrow.

The picture tells the actual story of Father Flanagan's struggles in establishing Boys Town near Omaha, Neb., as a refuge for homeless boys.

Spencer Tracy portrays the role of a priest for the second time in his career when he takes the part of Father Flanagan. Starred also is Mickey Rooney, who appears as a "tough guy" in the dramatic picture.

On the same bill will be "Meet the Girls," starring June Lang and Lynn Bari, who appear as Big Town girls in a new series. A newsreel will complete the bill.

'GANGWAY' TO BE VIEWED ON STATE SCREEN

Barry Mackay, Nat Bendleton and Jessie Matthews are starred in "Gangway," which will be featured at the State theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The musical production skirts the usual musical comedy material and presents Miss Matthews in a new role as an English sob-sister who gets involved in the affairs of New York's gangland.

Appearing on the same bill will be "The Wrong Road," which stars Helen Mack and Richard Cromwell. The picture presents the leading romantic characters as wrong-doers who plot their crime cold-bloodedly, are prepared to pay the consequences, and then live easily the rest of their lives on the funds they have embezzled.

BENNETT FILM CLOSES TODAY

Constance Bennett's latest starring picture, "The Sign of the Cross," will show for the last time tonight at the Broadway theater. Vincent Price, popular Broadway stage star, has the leading male role in the production.

The film deals with an exclusive personal service bureau which undertakes almost any kind of assignment from its clients, and the action is comic and fast. The cast includes Charles Ruggles, Mischa Auer, Helen Broderick and Joy Hodges.

The second attraction is "The Storm," a picture against the colorful background of giant ships and thundering storms at sea, and telling an emotional story of adventure and thrills in the lives of wireless operators at sea. The cast includes Charles Bickford, Barbara MacLane, Preston Foster, Tom Brown, Nan Grey, Andy Devine and Frank Jenks.

61 Persons Made Million In 1936

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury said today there were 61 individuals who made a million dollars in 1936.

A final tabulation of income tax returns for that year showed persons with over $1,000,000 income were distributed as follows:

New York 25, Delaware 7, Pennsylvania 6, New Jersey 5, Illinois 5, Michigan 4, Florida 2, Maryland 2, Connecticut 1, District of Columbia 1, Nevada 1, Texas 1, and Virginia 1.

Mary Stoddard

us and our lives seemed lonely and aimless.

"I'm married into a large family and each has their own family. They all say I don't realize how lucky I am not to be burdened with children, so you see I would take it that that expresses the feeling of some mothers! But my heart is heavy many times, especially when I see the expression on my husband's face as one of the children climbs on his knee and they do, for they all love him.

This isn't a spur-of-the-moment question with me and I just felt I'd like the reaction of strangers. As I've heard the opinion of the family and it's too confusing to be helpful.

I know when a little one comes into this home it will find lots of stored-up love, and as "A Foster Mother" wrote: "We've got a little corner of our hearts saved just for that." I'd like to say to this mother that we especially loved her letter and if ever we are fortunate enough to be given a baby, we'll plan it just as she did.

Many thanks to you, Miss Stoddard, and to your readers. Sincerely,

MRS. E. D.
It was nice of you to write again, "Mrs. E. D." and let us know that all of these letters were an inspiration to you. I, too, am deeply appreciative of all of the wonderful letters sent by foster mothers.

Stars in "Boys Town"

Bob Watson and Mickey Rooney appear above in a scene from "Boys Town" which comes to the screen of the Walker theater tomorrow for a three-day engagement. Also starred is Spencer Tracy, who takes the role of Father Flanagan.

Stars in State Film

Don Ameche, Tyrone Power, and Loretta Young are shown above in a scene from "Love Is News" which will be shown at the State theater tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

'ROOM SERVICE' WILL BE SEEN AT BROADWAY

A romance that blossoms in an atmosphere of bland double-dealing, wild hilarity and shoe-leather promotion methods, is the boys-meets-girl theme counterpointing the merry Marx Brothers' mania in "Room Service," which opens next Thursday at the Broadway theater.

Ann Miller and Frank Albertson enact the romantic leads in the picture, with Miss Miller as an employee of a hotel where most of the hectic action takes place, and Albertson as the ingenious author of a play which Groucho Marx is trying to produce, if he can find a backer. The film is based on the famous stage comedy of the same name.

Faced by a huge bill he has run up at the hotel for himself and the 2 members of the cast, Groucho, with Harpo and Chico as his aides, puts on a desperate campaign to hold the cast together, obtain a theater, secure financial backing and get the show launched before his troubles catch up with him.

How the campaign turns out makes for the hilarious climax of "Room Service," which promises to be the Marx's biggest hit to date. Lucille Ball tops the supporting cast of this new comedy.

'ANGELS WITH DIRTY FACES' OPENS NOV. 27

Dedicated to the thousands of slum boys who must choose between crime and honesty, "Angels With Dirty Faces," enacted by James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, the "Dead End" kids, Humphrey Bogart, Ann Sheridan and George Bancroft, will come to the screen of the Broadway theater a week from tomorrow.

"Angels With Dirty Faces" tells the story of two boys, ordinary, dirty-faced kids brought up in the teeming slums of a great city, who took opposite roads; one to the shadowy realms of the underworld, the other to priesthood. The conflict between these two characters, with the lives of thousands of boys as the stake, is strong dramatic fare and carries with it a deep social message.

Joe Penner, radio and film comedian, dons gridiron attire for his current laugh vehicle, "Mr. Doodle Kicks Off," which will be the second attraction. He plays the lazy heir of an industrial baron whose highest ambition is to direct his own orchestra, although his father wants him to become a penguin star.

Sirens Too Loud; Police Cars Crash

KANSAS CITY. (AP)—Two police patrol cars, their sirens sounding so loudly the drivers could not hear each other, collided at a street intersection today, killing Patrolman Henry Shippe, 35. The cars were speeding to give assistance to other officers in a shooting scrape with two negroes.

Actress, Director Will Be Married

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Screen Actress Marsha Hunt and Jerry Hooper, assistant casting director for Paramount studios, will be married in Santa Barbara next week, the actress said today. She would not give the exact date or the place.

'LOVE IS NEWS' OPENS SUNDAY AT THE STATE

"Love Is News," story of an heiress who seeks revenge on a newspaper reporter by announcing for publication that she is engaged to marry him, will be shown at the State theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The film stars Tyrone Power, Loretta Young, Don Ameche, Slim Summerville and others, and is being returned upon request.

Slated for the same program is Bob Barker's new Universal film, "Bland Bandit," which blends swift action with spectacular riding and the romantic melodies of the old west. Starred with Baker is Marjorie Reynolds.

"The secret of Treasure Island," a serial, will complete the bill.

GABLE, LOY ON WALKER BILL DURING WEEK

Action and romance run a race with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy as the principal characters in "Too Hot To Handle," a story of daring feats of newspaper cameramen, which will be shown at Walker's theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Gable and his rivals scour the world for newsreel thrills. There is action in China, where Gable stands amid bombs to film an aerial attack; Miss Loy as an aviatrix, attempts a mercy flight that ends in a crash through Gable's efforts to gain a scoop.

On the same bill will be "Campus Confessions," a collegiate picture which introduces the audience for the first time to the hitherto neglected sport of basketball. Chief action role is played by no less a court luminary than Hank Luisetti, Stanford ace, rated the greatest player the game has ever known.

Betty Grable and Eleanor Whitney play the collegiate heart-throbs. A newsreel will also be shown.

Johns Hopkins university and hospital were founded through a $700,000 bequest made by a Baltimore merchant of that name.

Bridal Plans Incentive For Shower

A miscellaneous shower was the manner in which Miss Betty Martin chose to celebrate the wedding of Walter Carrothers next Friday, when she entertained in the pleasant Martin home, 125 Bachman street, last evening.

The guests, all close friends of the bride-elect, were seated at individual tables set in the bridal white, other appointments in the home following the same theme. A dessert course served before bridge play began was in the motif suggesting wedding bells.

Miss Louise Sexton and Mrs. Marvin Starr were awarded first and second prizes for high scores in contract. Others invited to honor Miss Drew were Mrs. Alfred Forney, Mrs. Marvin Starr, Mrs. Chris Ema, Mrs. Bert Conlisk, Mrs. Stewart Meese (Mary Lou McFarland), Mrs. Harry Manns, Miss Eleanor Morilla, Miss Beatrice Granis, Miss Louise Sexton, Miss Hazel Cartwright, Miss Eunice Spicer, the honoree and the hostess.

Miss Drew, who now makes her home in Beverly Hills, attended local schools, as did Mr. Carrothers. Following their wedding, they will live in Los Angeles.

Miss Martin, attending U. C. L. A., where she is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority, is to be at home this week-end, returning to school tomorrow.

PIEREAN CLUB ENJOYS MEETING

Pierean club members enjoyed a very party-like session yesterday when they met in the Anaheim home of Mrs. C. L. Tacker. The hostess had arranged a festive table with corsages at each place, miniature horns of plenty, and lovely flowers.

At the close of a dessert course, which her mother, Mrs. H. Hayson, helped her serve, Mrs. Tacker removed the chrysanthemum centerpiece and put in its place a "mystery box" containing gifts brought each member by Mrs. Jennie Crawford from her old home in historic Owensboro, Ky. Each drew her present.

Later, Mrs. Crawford presided at a business meeting at which time it was announced that Mrs. H. W. Guthrie will entertain the group Dec. 22 with the day's topic to be "Candles."

Yesterday's topic, "Contrasts," was presided over by Mrs. Earl Ladd, and members' contributions were augmented by a charming group of songs sung by Mrs. Charles Nalle.

Members present, and their compositions, were Mrs. Crawford, "Night and Morning;" Mrs. Guthrie, "Love Lightens Toll;" Mrs. G. W. Bond, "Giving Delight;" Mrs. Ladd, "Satisfaction;" Mrs. E. G. Warner, "Smiles and Frowns;" Mrs. Margaret Church, "Purple and Gold;" Mrs. Jean Rohlander, "Sunshine and Shadow;" Mrs. Tacker, "Day and Night;" Mrs. Mary Perdev, "Trees," and "November," and Mrs. T. P. McKee, "Contrast Is Rest."

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FETED

Mrs. Norman Heffner, 2418 Fairmont street, inspired a pleasant courtesy when a group of friends gathered to fete her and her new little daughter, Nona Anne, whose birth occurred Oct. 16.

The party was planned by Mrs. Ben Craig, Mrs. Lloyd Groover, and Miss Nellie Fitzpatrick, who arranged pretty pink and blue decorations, a refreshment course and prizes for hop, which went to Mrs. James Holcom and Mrs. L. J. Macloskey.

Sharing in the event, which was a shower of baby gifts, were the Mesdames Ray Bradford, Oscar Kelly, Herman Lentz, Don Squiers, L. J. Macloskey, Dan Adams, John Turton, C. H. Meschan, James Holcom, Miss Lorraine Abiam, Miss Nellie Stratton and the three who planned it.

MRS. HEWITT HAS AT-HOME

That charming custom of setting aside one afternoon a month for an "at home" has been inaugurated this winter by Mrs. R. G. Hewitt, who on the third Friday arranges a cozy open fire and tea course for those of her friends who care to call informally.

Yesterday found Mrs. Fred Merker, Mrs. Carl Edgar, Mrs. Paul Ragan, Mrs. William Stauffer, Mrs. Harold Nelson, and Mrs. Harry Welch sharing her hospitality.

COUPLES HAVE DINNER PARTY

Members of the One O'Clock club entertained their husbands at dinner at La Hacienda last night, later adjourning to the J. E. Braden home at 2031 North Rose street for an evening of Chinese checkers.

In the group were the Messrs. and Mesdames Louis Williams, Thomas Harris, Albert Raymond, Eugene Pettit, Joseph Ogle, Merle Jackson, Charles Hill, Lawrence Pratt and J. E. Braden.

Belles of Ebell Dance Are Featured With Pretty Wedding Belles

MRS. KENNETH PRICE

Attention tonight is centered on the annual Harvest ball of Junior Ebell, of which MRS. KENNETH PRICE (Baker Photo) is refreshment chairman, and MISS JEAN FERREY is decoration chairman. It is to be held at the Ebell clubhouse at 9:30 p. m. Much attention three weeks ago, however, was centered on pretty MRS. LOUIS ROGERS, (Mary Smart Photo) who, until Oct. 27, was MISS META WALTI, only recently arrived in this country from her native Switzerland. She became the bride of the son of former Chief-of-Police L. C. Rogers and Mrs. Rogers at a double wedding in Palm Springs, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen were the others who tied the nuptial knot.

MISS JEAN FERREY

MRS. LOUIS ROGERS

CHAT AWHILE with BETTY

Don't shrink and shudder, people, because it'll do you no good. From now on the urge to tick off to you the days remaining before old St. Nick's annual pilgrimage will be simply irresistible, particularly since Christmas eve has the lack of grace this year to fall on Saturday, of all things—so it's five weeks, 35 days, 30 shopping days—until you have to fill those stockings.

Just this week, this busy week, approach of that holiday and of the New Year came to our attention, and I confess, it was pretty startling to all of a sudden, write "the which-and-whack" will meet next on the third Tuesday in January.

It does seem sort of a shame, though, that we can't at least get Thanksgiving out of the way before concerning ourselves with Christmas.

Christmas came early for all ye Assistance league members, for last week when they were bidden to Mrs. James Irvine's cocktail party, marking her brief return to the Southland, each one was the recipient of some adorable frivolity brought from Paris. Great wispy chiffon hankies with names hugely embroidered across them, exquisite little evening bags, striking jewelry—each one well suited to the person to whom it was given. The majestic presentation lent even more credence to the supposition that the Irvines will not be in residence here for their annual Christmas party this year, Mrs. I. having announced that she thought it best to remain in the north for once so that Katie Lillard, Mr. I.'s granddaughter, could have the advantages of San Francisco's Yuletide swirl.

Somebody else back from Europe after a marvelous several months there is Mrs. Helen Heil. She and her clever Betty tripped around until the war scare really got them, and they rushed from England on the S. S. Transylvania to Boston. With no haste for home, they dawdled pleasantly about in New England, and Betty decided to enroll there in a very fine business school to wind up her Pomona and European education, while her mama continued on home by means of a shiny new car.

And a refreshing travel speaker encountered yesterday was Mrs. Grace Knipe who, instead of going into bookish detail, was quite delightful as she simply related her summer's tour of Europe (accompanied by her teen-aged children) from the point of view of the tourist abroad for the first time. Difficulties in money, kaleidoscope time and scenes and the intriguing little souvenirs that everyone longs to invest in, all were part of her talk. Each knickknack had its association, and enabled her audience to see the better the place of which she spoke. Final display was the gay little Dutch costume her young daughter had bought in Holland, and when she prevailed upon Katherine McDaniel to model it it was too cute for words—and terribly becoming to Katie.

But all this talk of trips abroad gnaws in my damask cheek, doesn't it yours? Which reminds me, speaking of gnawing, Junior Ebell First Book Reviewers are unashamedly following in the footsteps of Lives and Times gals by having a turkey raffle, only theirs is to be for Christmas, while the L. and T. is for next week. Alice Harrison, looking lovely but a little too willowy after her recent long illness, was on hand at Ebell Monday importuning investors, as were Phyllis Jeffrey and wee Betty Winckler, whose pointed chin is simply fascinating to me. They did pretty well, and I can hardly wait to be called and told the bird is mine. Though perhaps it wouldn't be fair for me to be the winner—I so frequently get the bird.

Here and there: Pretty clever and well-timed of La Valley Monday to voice the fact that the United States could not permit Germany's continued persecution to go uncontested, and then the next morning have all the headlines carry the news that we'd invited our ambassador home, wasn't it? ... Terribly nice to see Mrs. Clark Johnson there again, up and about after her long illness.

Irma May looks too saucy for words in a chunky little fur jacket. ... Mrs. W. H. Harrison is a super-efficient and gracious chairman. ... The Robert A. Millers are smoothing around in a big new B—these days. ... Clara Hewitt's more intimate friends have been having the time of their lives kidding her about her "saloon"—the clever Mrs. Hewitt having launched an enjoyable little saloon series. ... Beth Emison, the lovely, is heretofore resting from U. C. L. A. midterms, quite transformed by distinctly auburn tresses, a mistake, she says, on the part of the beauty operator. ... She's with her aunt, Mona Summers Smith, since the fond parents are eastern vacationing. ... The Hubert Nalls brought their pride and joy, collegiate Bud, home from the Los Angeles hospital Thursday, to finish his recuperation from an appendectomy, and he's really keeping his mother hopping.

Question for the week: What diminutive miss is rumored already married to the handsome young professional man new to these parts?

Two local sets of parents are rejoicing in having daughters nearer them after a long time. One, the C. A. Vances, are welcoming daughter Charlotte and her husband, who now live in Los Angeles, and the other, the F. E. Farnsworths, who have their Evelyn also in the Angel City. The latter's was a political move, her husband having been closely connected with Gov. Merriam.

On the other hand, the Ralph Smedleys sadly bade their Betty good-bye as she whipped back to Massachusetts to her bridegroom after a two months' vacation here. ... A perfectly charming mother-daughter combination are that fine-boned pair of little ladies, Mrs. Martha Medlock and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin — and equally charming are the dark-eyed beauties, Mrs. Robert Tuhill and Mary.

If I had any gumption I'd telephone gentle Mrs. F. E. Coulter this very minute and find out the name of the young man who is scheduled to talk Dec. 4, Sunday, at Bowers' museum, because she was telling me about him the other day at Mrs. Stephenson's tea, and he sounds simply fascinating. However, the name has eluded my memory, and I haven't time to call, so suffice to say that at the tender age of 15, while traveling abroad with a tutor, he ran away into the hinterland of Turkistan, eventually taking up Mohammedanism, marrying a lovely native girl who was later killed by marauders, being taken prisoner himself, and experiencing all sorts of similarly exciting events. At the same time, she says, he's extremely brilliant, and right now is in quite a predicament because he's just been appointed high muckamuck of education over all Arabia, and was to have sailed Nov. 21. However, it's pretty necessary that he touch

Dinner Party Enjoyed In Hoiles' Home

The Victoria Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoiles was setting for a delightful formal dinner party last evening, when they anticipated the coming holiday by inviting a group of friends in for a typical Thanksgiving dinner and evening of bridge.

Russet-hued chrysanthemums shading from bronze to deep mahogany red, were used all over the house to decorate, and also centered the one long table where the group was seated.

At the conclusion of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bemis won high couple prize, and table prizes were awarded to individual scorers.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hoiles included Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, Mrs. Will Flood, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Dunning, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coffing, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Lowe, Dr. and Mrs. John Ball, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Swales, Miss Evelyn Schrieber (Mrs. Hoiles' sister), and R. C. Hoiles.

SIX TABLES CHARMINGLY ENTERTAINED

Charming hospitality was extended last night by Mrs. Paul Carnahan and her daughter, Mrs. Helen McCallum, when they entertained six tables of bridge in their home here.

An attractive Thanksgiving motif was carefully carried out, with miniature horns of plenty and candy turkeys at each place, and appropriate tallies and yellow tapes decorating the dessert tables.

Amusingly toned chrysanthemums were about the rooms, and high table prizes went to Mrs. Milton Johnson, Mrs. Harvey Doerken, Mrs. Johnson, Sweet, Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, Mrs. Walter Lewis, and Mrs. William McGuigan, while low award went to Mrs. James Johnson.

Guests of the hostess-duo were the Mesdames R. Wyckoff, Paul Anderson, William McQuigan, Helen McCallum, Joe Steedman, John Johnson, Sam Long, Charles Rumell, John Vernon, Harvey Doerken, Walter Edkins, Ed Prentice, John Gould, Ted Cole, Edith Snow, Nell D. Winslow, Etta Swett, Maude Swarthout, James Johnson, W. H. Walters, Osa Gardner, and Elizabeth Lewis.

Turkey en route, and since the latter country has a peculiar law to the effect that when anyone with even a drop of Turkish blood becomes a Turkish citizen the minute he touches Turkish soil, Mr. X is, colloquially speaking, up a stump—because his mother is part Turkish, and he thinks it's no secret—and he wants to want to become a Turkish citizen!

All of which is very involved, but interesting, don't you think? Think I'll wander over and hear him two weeks from tomorrow.

Speaking of birds, Louise West has a whole nestful atop her newest hat. ... Mrs. L. G. Swales has a smart one, too, a black peaked witch's number, very becoming. ... Betty Ragan says she likes the feeling of having her hair up, but quite sensibly wonders if its dignity matches her personality. ... Speaking of Mrs. Swales, her lovely daughter, Kay, is home from the city where she underwent an operation a fortnight ago, but still is not back to par. Saw the latter's husband, Lyman Farnwell, solemnly loading one of those little push-carts full of groceries at a local mart last Saturday. ... The W. B. Well, off to my radio now to hear Stanford go places over California, and thereby win a nickel from Mrs. Paul Dinamore, who is an ardent Cal fan, and who is not at the Big Game for only the second time in her life, practically. She's just back from a week up north that stretched into three, and in an enthusiastic state over the beauties of Treasure Island, says it looks like a fairyland. ... Lots of local folks are seeing it this weekend, but of that more later.

Happy turkey day to you all, and be sure and keep your heads, as the gobbler said to all the little goblets. I'll be seeing you next Saturday—the day that Margaret Hall will be wrestling with 20 determined small boys partying with her own blond Tommy. Until then—

Wilbur Barrs Are Hosts At Supper Party Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Barr are receiving some thirty guests in their attractive home this evening at a buffet supper. Incentive for the affair arose when they learned that their two brothers-in-law, Lieut. Comm. Henry Armstrong of Long Beach, and Lieut. Comm. James Paul of San Diego, both married to Mrs. Barr's sisters, have been ordered to absent detail.

The former leaves next week for Bremerton, where he will be stationed for the next few months, and the latter is to take over destroyer command at Charleston, S. C.

Invited from Santa Ana were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Forgy, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Braden Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Elfstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall, Judge and Mrs. Franklin West, Harold Sellers, and Bruce Clark.

From Long Beach will come the Armstrongs and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller, and from San Diego with the Pauls will come the Stuart Macklins. Guests from Palm Springs will include Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson and Herbert Samson, while from Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stover, Mr. and Mrs. James Woodford, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jesson.

From Duncan Stewart Robinson of Arroyo Vista, state federation president, was an honored guest to the convention, over which Mrs. David A. Fraser of Santa Ana, retiring district president, presided.

Delegates from the Santa Ana Ebell club, with Mrs. Thomson, were Mrs. F. C. Rowland, Mrs. E. D. White, Mrs. Aldric Worswick, Mrs. T. R. Travick, Mrs. W. I. Ferrey, Mrs. A. W. Griffith, and Miss Effie Douglas.

Delegates and alternates from the Woman's club of Santa Ana were Mrs. L. E. Tarbox, the president, and the Mesdames R. A. McMahon, Mary Fairbanks, J. D. Watkins, P. R. Arnold, E. M. Waycott, and Glenn Cole.

BRIDGE OCCUPIES HOURS AT CLUB YESTERDAY

Since the busy Thanksgiving season so close, many matrons are finding myriads of items to fill their time in preparation for the big day, and therefore there was a more intimate group than usual at the popular Santa Ana Country club bridge tea yesterday.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Will Spurgeon, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Cogan, who arranged for cards in the pleasant solarium. Individual table prizes were awarded high scorer at each table in play. Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. John Clarke and Mrs. Joseph Daniger.

The club, recently refurbished, was made exceptionally attractive for an affair of this sort, and flowers were graciously contributed by Mrs. J. E. Liebig, following a dinner party of the other evening when the Liebigs and the J. E. Pauls were hosts. During the tea hour, the table was decorated with a fall centerpiece, and lighted with slender tapers in the warm fall shades. Mrs. Spurgeon and Mrs. Cogan presided at this time.

GENERAL AID
General aid of the First Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday, Nov. 30 at 2 p. m. A fine program has been arranged, and all members are urged to attend for final details of the annual bazaar, to be held Dec. 3, will be arranged.

HERSHEYS ARE FETED IN NEW HOME

The pretty new home at 620 East Twentieth street so recently finished and moved into by Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hershey, inspired a group of friends to give them a house warming last night.

The affair was a surprise, and the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Hershey with a handsome new card table, as well as bringing a delicious refreshment course.

Those conspiring to thus fete them were Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McPhee, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Webb.

Misses Mary and Jane Tomlinson and Jane Wade recently formed a hostess trio when they honored Mrs. Henry Nagley at a shower.

During the evening, the guests played games, with Miss Lila Adrian and Mrs. George Clark winning prizes. A refreshment course was served at the conclusion of the play. It was then that Mrs. Nagley was given her gifts, and also presented with a corsage.

Present with her and the hostesses were Mrs. Mamie Wade, Mrs. Ralph Adams, Mrs. Sam Skill of Long Beach, Miss Beatrice Duisart, Anaheim, Miss Clara Culen of Hemet, Mrs. John Kendall of Laguna Beach, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Patty Marlborough, Miss Lila Adrian, Miss Cleo Adrian, Miss Doris Farge, Mrs. George Clark and Mrs. Tomlinson.

A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Frank Harwood, who introduced Mrs. Mason Yould, director of the program, "This Month in the Garden," was discussed by Mrs. Gruettner and Mrs. Lilling, of the Mission Flow-shop, explained arrangement of table centerpieces of fall flowers. She illustrated her talk with a charming Thanksgiving floral arrangement.

M. E. Geeting instructed the group in making corsages and Mrs. C. W. Harrison concluded the program with a talk on the Orange County Flower club of La Habra.

Enjoying the meeting yesterday were the Mesdames H. M. Baldridge, A. N. Crawford, C. W. Davis, C. W. Harrison, Frank Harwood, E. T. Hayden, W. R. Heath, J. C. Horton, E. C. Hunter, J. W. Jones, Harry McCormack, Guy Miller, Frank Miller, W. A. Paxton, Ray Stedman, Carl Strock, T. E. Tournat, C. H. Vorce, Clyde Walker, Edward Walker, Mason Yould, Miss Edith Stanley and Miss Ora Davis, and special guests of the group, Mrs. Louis Danz and Mrs. Stanley Kurtz.

OTIS BARRS ENTERTAIN AT FAMILY DINNER

Arranging an early Thanksgiving dinner because various members of their family have other plans for the actual holiday, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Barr last night were hosts in their lovely colonial home on North Main street.

With them for the pleasant affair were their son, Wilbur Barr, with Mrs. Barr and young George; their daughter, Frances Barr; Mickley with Horace Mickley and little Tommie and Mary Lou; their daughter, Katherine Barr; Alberton, with Wilbur Alberton and young Stephen, and Mrs. Barr's mother, Mrs. Mary Peebles.

TRAVEL GROUP MEETS IN SPICER HOME

Miss Mildred Spicer was hostess yesterday afternoon to Travel section of Junior Ebell, with Mrs. Charles McDaniel assisting her at the tea hour.

Mrs. Newell Vandermaast was in charge of the meeting, in the absence of Mrs. Calvin Flint, and presented Mrs. Grace Knipe, who gave a charming informal talk about her summer European tour, accompanying it with display of the many lovely souvenirs she had acquired there.

The group will hold an evening Christmas party, with exchange of inexpensive gifts, Dec. 16, at the home of Mrs. Robert Guild.

Present yesterday were Miss Spicer, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Vandermaast, Mrs. Guild, Mrs. Kramer Roelisch, Mrs. Arthur Wade, Mrs. Quentin Matzen, Mrs. Raymond Trevorrow, Mrs. Edmund Guard, Mrs. Frank Curran, Mrs. Thoburn White, Mrs. Frederick Pinkston, Mrs. Wendell Finley, Mrs. Carleton Smith and Mrs. Clyde Higgins.

essays were Mrs. Mamie Wade, Mrs. Ralph Adams, Mrs. Sam Skill of Long Beach, Miss Beatrice Duisart, Anaheim, Miss Clara Culen of Hemet, Mrs. John Kendall of Laguna Beach, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Patty Marlborough, Miss Lila Adrian, Miss Cleo Adrian, Miss Doris Farge, Mrs. George Clark and Mrs. Tomlinson.

Somebody else back from Europe after a marvelous several months there is Mrs. Helen Heil. She and her clever Betty tripped around until the war scare really got them, and they rushed from England on the S. S. Transylvania to Boston. With no haste for home, they dawdled pleasantly about in New England, and Betty decided to enroll there in a very fine business school to wind up her Pomona and European education, while her mama continued on home by means of a shiny new car.

And a refreshing travel speaker encountered yesterday was Mrs. Grace Knipe who, instead of going into bookish detail, was quite delightful as she simply related her summer's tour of Europe (accompanied by her teen-aged children) from the point of view of the tourist abroad for the first time. Difficulties in money, kaleidoscope time and scenes and the intriguing little souvenirs that everyone longs to invest in, all were part of her talk. Each knickknack had its association, and enabled her audience to see the better the place of which she spoke. Final display was the gay little Dutch costume her young daughter had bought in Holland, and when she prevailed upon Katherine McDaniel to model it it was too cute for words—and terribly becoming to Katie.

But all this talk of trips abroad gnaws in my damask cheek, doesn't it yours? Which reminds me, speaking of gnawing, Junior Ebell First Book Reviewers are unashamedly following in the footsteps of Lives and Times gals by having a turkey raffle, only theirs is to be for Christmas, while the L. and T. is for next week. NATIONAL K. C. OFFICER TO BE HERE SUNDAY

One of the most elaborate affairs in the history of the Knights of Columbus lodge No. 1842, Santa Ana, will be staged Sunday after-noon and evening when an initiation and banquet, embracing the appearance of a national officer of the organization from Chicago, will be held. Approximately 250 members and guests are expected to be present.

This was the announcement today of Dist. Deputy Charles W. Wolford, who will be in charge of the banquet and degree work. Wolford explained that the degree work would start at noon in the Knights of Columbus hall here, and be held for delegations from all lodges in the 24th district. The latter includes Santa Ana, San Diego, Riverside, San Bernardino, Pomona and Ontario.

"The major degrees of the Knights of Columbus will be conferred on one of the largest classes ever initiated by the local council," Wolford said. It was pointed out by Allen A. Mandy, grand knight of the local council, that the affair comes as a crowning climax to the recent membership campaign which was hailed as one of the most successful events of its kind in recent years.

Wolford also disclosed that he had received a telegram from Martin H. Carmody of New Haven, Conn., who is supreme knight of the K. of C., that a high ranking officer of the Chicago lodge would arrive in Santa Ana tomorrow in time for the degree work.

It was emphasized by both Mandy and Wolfodd that while the first, second and third degrees will be conferred in the local K. of C. hall, the banquet will be held in the American Legion hall at 7 p. m., with the auxiliary of the local Legion post preparing and serving the meal.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Father Louis A. Mulvihill, past state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus from Los Angeles.

In addition to the members and their wives, local officials said that a large group of prominent non-Catholic friends of the organization would attend the banquet as special guests for the historic event.

Junior Past State Deputy Clyde H. Ashen of Santa Ana, will be the conferring officer for the de-agree work during the entire afternoon.

IOWA RECOUNT TO BE ASKED

MASON CITY. (P)—L. J. Dickinson (R) last night indicated he would ask a recount in the Iowa senatorial race in which he apparently was beaten by Senator Guy M. Gillette (D).

Addressing a Republican victory dinner here, Dickinson, a former senator said:

The Associated Press totals, including official reports from 76 of Iowa's 99 counties, today gave Gillette a lead of 2371 votes. The latest totals were: Gillette 413,522, Dickinson 411,151.

SANTS WIN; DONS TIE SAN MATEO, 6 TO 6

FOOTE PREPS BLANK SAN BERD00, 14-0

Dominating the game from start to finish, Santa Ana High school's Saints closed their Citrus Belt football season with an impressive 14-0 victory over San Bernardino Cardinals in the Municipal bowl yesterday.

The game had no bearing on the C. B. L. title race already won by Pomona's powerful Red Devils, but the victory pulled Coach Bill Foote's preps ahead of San Bernardino and Redlands in league standings, and was a pleasant ending before the home fans.

Capt. Eugene Hamaker, left half-back who has been out most of the season with an injured knee, returned to action and scored both of the Saints' touchdowns—in the first and second quarters. The scores came on 1 and 2-yard bucks climaxed drives of 34 and 61 yards.

HAMAKER GAINS

Little George Higashi, quarterback, returned a punt 13 yards to San Bernardino's 34-yard line midway in the first quarter. Hamaker broke through for a beautiful gain of 13 yards to the 21. In the next series, Bobbie Musick went 6 yards, and Wayne Piper skirted left end for 14 yards, planting the ball on the 1-yard line. Hamaker went off-tackle for the score, and added the extra point on a pass over left end to Brown, 7-0.

Two plays following the next kick-off, the Saints were awarded the ball on San Bernardino's 32-yard line because the visitors had an ineligible receiver on a pass. The Saints marched to the 1, but they were penalized 15 yards for holding, and the next series ended with Hamaker passing over the goal.

San Bernardino advanced the ball to the visitors' 33, and then punted to Higashi, who returned to Santa Ana's 39. From here, the Saints put on a 61-yard touchdown drive, as follows:

Piper reeled off 18 yards to San Bernardino's 43 to ignite the rally, and the burly Hamaker followed with a spectacular 28-yard gain, planting the ball on San Bernardino's 15. Piper was held for no gain and Musick lost 4. With the ball on the 19, Hamaker ploughed through for 11 yards to the 8-yard line. He made 4 more for a first down on the 4. Piper picked up 2, and on the next play Hamaker plunged over for the score. Bill Huff, halfback, recovered the conversion, and the score stood 14-0.

The Saints held a decided edge on offense, rolling up 13 first downs to 4.

MARCH 66 YARDS

Early in the third quarter, Taylor of San Bernardino got off a 51-yard punt that rolled off bounds on Santa Ana's 19. With Hamaker and Musick lugging the pigskin, the Saints marched 66 yards before losing the ball on San Bernardino's 19. They were given another scoring chance when Don Dunn, center, recovered the fumble following a San Bernardino pass on the enemy's 19, but the Saints ended the rally by passing over the goal on fourth down.

Lone threat of San Bernardino came in the fourth period when the Cardinals recovered a fumble at mid-field. They advanced to Santa Ana's 36 on running plays, and Taylor passed to Smith to San Bernardino's 19. A running play lost a yard, and the Cardinals tossed three incomplete passes.

Barney Robinson got off a beautiful quick kick that rolled 65 yards to San Bernardino's 12-yard line. On fourth down, the Cardinals were forced to punt out to mid-field, and the Saints tried a long pass to San Bernardino's 25. The ball was intercepted, but the Saints recovered a fumble, and tried another long pass which almost was completed into the end zone as the gun sounded.

APOSTOLI STOPS CORBETT ON TECHNICAL IN EIGHTH; SOLLY KRIEGER UNIMPRESSED

NEW YORK. (AP)—Fred Apostoli holds today at least half of the world's "middleweight," or 160-pound, boxing championship, the reward for his eight-round technical knockout of Young Corbett, 3rd, a fellow Californian, last night at Madison Square Garden.

Corbett, 33 years old and weary as time, sank down on one knee and gave up the ghost in 2:01 of the eighth after Apostoli had knocked him down three times. Some 7500 spectators, including Col. Fulgencio Batista, head man of Cuba, declared it a pretty dull evening.

Though he lost the first three rounds to his left-handed opponent, Apostoli gave the impression from the start that he could win when he got ready. The amazement was that Corbett ever won a 10-round decision over him last February on the coast.

Corbett in his dressing room lifted tired eyes to say: "He just wore me down. He was too strong, and his body punches hurt me terribly." One of his handlers said: "You can't keep on fooling old man time. He finally gets you."

BULLDOGS VS. CLEVELAND

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Cleveland Rams, Ohio's hopes in the National Professional football league, come to Los Angeles today determined to topple the strong Los Angeles Bulldogs in a pro game at Gilmore stadium tomorrow afternoon.

The Bulldogs were held to a 14-14 tie a week ago by Whizzer White and his Pittsburgh Pirates, but three of the local stars who sat on the bench last Sunday—Passer Bill Howard, Linemen Harry Fields and Steve Sinko—have recovered from injuries and will be ready for action tomorrow.

Starting at left half for the Rams will be Ed Goddard, former All-Coast star when he attended Washington State; Vic Markov of Washington; and at right guard, Jim Benton of Arkansas, and other players outstanding in college football days.

Historic St. John College Cancels All Competition

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Historic St. John's college, which hit the trail back to the classics a year ago, took another bold stride away from the conventional pattern of American colleges today by abolishing intercollegiate athletic competition.

With the departure from the intercollegiate picture came a sharply worded statement by President Stringfellow Barr, criticizing what he termed a "semi-professional system" in which "the term 'athletic scholarship' is widely used to hide subsidy and professionalism" in America's collegiate athletics.

St. John's, he said, from now on will give first consideration to "student pleasure." And so, after the end of the current school year, and its athletic schedules, the Ivy-covered college on the banks of the quiet Severn will concentrate on a greatly expanded intramural program.

This year's football squad, playing a "de-emphasized" program, scheduled five games and has lost four without scoring a point. The first game, with Johns Hopkins, will be played Nov. 26. Next year the college will play six-man football on an intramural basis.

"Intercollegiate athletics," said Barr, "involves substituting a spectator psychosis for student participation. It meshes the college in with a semi-professional system in which scores are more important than pleasure and skill."

"The term 'athletic scholarship,'" he added "is widely used today to hide subsidy and professionalism. Athletic scholarships are granted by many colleges, with a good deal of hypocritical talk about... scholarships, high grades, fine character, eligibility, etc., but for the obvious purpose of providing teams with paid players to win games."

Pomona Favored Over Occidental In 41st Contest

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Pomona college's title-bound football eleven was ready to take the field today against Occidental in the 41st renewal of gridiron warfare between the two schools.

Pomona was highly favored, but pre-game predictions have gone for little, nothing on many occasions during the past years, and an upset by Occy—as a highlight of its Home-Coming day festivities—was not considered impossible.

Victory for Pomona will give it the Southern California conference championship. The defeat will throw Whittier defeats Redlands in their annual scrap this afternoon.

Landreth, Arizona Coach, May Miss Marquette Game

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Marquette ranked a strong favorite to defeat the University of Arizona Wildcats here tonight in a homecoming clash expected to attract about 10,000 spectators.

Both Coach Paddy Driscoll of Marquette and Coach Orion Landreth of Arizona reported their squads free from major injuries. Landreth, ill with influenza, probably will not see the game.

Peggy Graham of L. A. Keeps Title

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Los Angeles city women's golf title remained among the championships owned by Peggy Graham of Los Angeles today after blonde Peggy successfully defended the bauble yesterday in the finals of the annual city tournament.

Miss Graham, present Southern California titleholder and former state champion, subdued Mrs. C. C. Akin of Los Angeles, 6 and 5, after going into a 2-up lead at the end of the morning round. Miss Graham won the title a year ago.

fourth, and in the fifth he began scoring bull's-eyes on Corbett's chin. The veteran wilted rapidly, and by the close of the sixth round he obviously was in bad shape. Both eyes were cut and his face was blooming like a rose.

Early in the seventh the young, vigorous Apostoli dug a left deep into Corbett's middle, and Corbett went down grimacing for a nine-count. Another flurry to the body put him down for eight before the round ended.

He barely came out for the fatal eighth. Quickly Apostoli pounced upon him and drove him to the canvas for a count of nine. He rose on sagging legs to meet another onslaught, but thought better of it and went back down, shaking his head. Referee Eddie Josephs motioned Apostoli to his corner and said that was enough.

Apostoli was fresh enough to leap into the air for the photographers at ringside. Now his only problem is to get Krigger in the ring with him again. He has beaten Solly twice, once by a decision and once by a knockout, but that was back before either held the "championship."

CAL, STANFORD LURE 82,000

BERKELEY. (AP)—Some 82,000 fans, one of the biggest crowds here in many years, were expected to pack Memorial stadium to the brim today to watch Stanford and University of California clash in the 44th renewal of the Pacific coast rivalry.

California, Pacific Coast conference champion last year and a beaten only by University of Southern California this season, was the overwhelming favorite.

Stanford, handicapped by injuries, has won only two of its six conference games but has shown steady improvement.

A California victory possibly could mean more than a sentimental triumph. The Golden Bears still are in the race for the conference championship and the Rose bowl bid. Should California win today, and Southern California lose to University of California at Los Angeles Thanksgiving day, the Bears would keep their conference title and probably play in the Pasadena classic Jan. 2.

California beat Stanford, last year, 13 to 0, and the year before, 20 to 0. Before that, Stanford won three in a row. Stanford has won 20 of the 43 games played, and California 15. Eight were ties.

San Jose Favorite Over S. D. Marines

SAN DIEGO. (AP)—San Jose State college's high-scoring and undefeated football team was favored to win over the U. S. Marines of San Diego in their game here tonight.

The Marines, who held San Jose to a 7-7 tie last year, expected their major problem tonight would be stopping Le Roy Zimmerman, the invaders' crack passer and kicker.

Five years ago—Emroy and Henry College of Virginia set pace for nation's eleven undefeated and untied football teams with nine victories.

 NEW YORK. (AP)—That Fred Apostoli really knows what to do with his fists... But all hands should stop acting silly and get together on that Apostoli-Solly Krigger fight so the middleweights can come out from behind the eight-ball... And Young Corbett, whose 33-year-old legs "ain't what they used to be," should shuffle off to Fresno for a well-earned rest... Little Barney Ross and Tony Casoneri got the biggest hands before the "title" fireworks... But the nicest gesture was turned in by Ceferino Garcia, who held the ropes for Hammerin' Henry Armstrong to climb through when both were introduced... The tangle who was a pretty fair tasser himself, for the frogs... First thing you know, that Joe DiMaggio'll get into the diplomatic service—he's getting that cagey... Any time you ask him about next year's contract these days, all he'll say is "Mr. Rapaport is a very nice man." It's easy to see the fine Scandinavian hand of Will McKechnie in the Reds' very smart move of grabbing Jimmy Wilson as coach... He should work wonders with those young pitchers in the Rhineland... Remember Izzy Weinstein, the Pitt all-America a few years back?... Well, Brother Harry is rated a better than fair back at Wilkes-Barre G. A. R. High... Better look into that one, Jock Sutherland.

Down at Huntington Beach, Louie Garcia of the Oilers intercepted a Newport pass on Huntington Beach's 8-yard line and rammed to the 40, tossed a lateral to Bob Swigart who rammed 60 yards for a Huntington Beach touchdown. The play was good for 92 yards. Ray Cook of the Oilers intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for another Oilers touchdown. Pulgencio was the star of the Newport eleven. He ran 74 yards for one touchdown, and passed 20 yards to Mickelwaite for another Newport score.

Whittier Defeats Fullerton, 38-13

FULLERTON. — Whittier captured the Football league football championship by routing Fullerton High school's Indians 38 to 13, here yesterday. The Poets will enter the C. I. F. playoffs next week.

Fullerton's main loss will be at the ends, where Don Winters and Ray Handel leave the first string positions vacant. Jay Moody, who has seen considerable action at the wing spot, also graduates. Both centers, Ralph Pyron and Jerry Ganong, finish their careers next Thursday.

A big hole will be left open at the important quarterback berth. Aubrey Minister, Dave Slemmon and Mike DeMarco thinning the ranks by graduation. Four first-string guards will pass out of the picture and will leave a problem for Pickens next year. Capt. John Hanna, his understudy, Dale Isenberger, Blair Salmon and Johnny Melton all finish their two years of play on Thanksgiving day.

Hawaiians Beaten By Fresno, 15-13

FRESNO. (AP)—Fresno State college's football team boasted a 15 to 13 win today over the University of Hawaii, thanks to Ray Sturgill's accurate foot.

Sturgill kicked a field goal midway in the final period of the close contest last night to provide Fresno with the victory margin.

HONOLULU. (AP)—The Kamehameha alumni football team defeated the Navy outfit, 32 to 0, here last night. Kamehameha plays the San Diego Marines here Dec. 10.

JORDAN WINS 13-6, FACES TILLER PREPS

Their record unblemished in Orange Prep league competition, Coach Russell Wilson's Tustin Tillers today sported another football championship as the result of an impressive 6-0 victory at Brea-Olinda yesterday.

As a result, Tustin will enter the C. I. F. playoffs next week against Long Beach Jordan, which won the Sunset league title yesterday with a 13-6 victory over the previous co-leader, Excelsior. Site for the first-round playoff game probably will be selected Monday, it was learned.

HANNAFORD LOST
 Homer Hannaford, Tustin's right tackle, suffered a broken collarbone on the touchdown play against Brea, and will be lost when the Tillers go up against Long Beach Jordan in the playoffs next week.

Tustin's victory at Brea was more impressive than the score indicates. The Tillers rolled up approximately 300 yards from scrimmage, and they held Brea to one first down. A strong wind handicapped Quarterback Hal Lilley in his punting.

The Tillers scored in the third quarter. With the ball on Brea's 5-yard line, Lilley tossed a 10-yard pass to Joe Kiersey, halfback, who galloped down the sidelines 20 yards behind good blocking from Scott, halfback, to score. Junior Staples, guard, missed the conversion on a kick.

Lilley broke away for a 45-yard run in the first period to Brea's 5-yard line, but a fumble set the Tillers back to the 15. In the second quarter, Tustin had a first down on Brea's 5-yard line as the half ended.

In other Orange league finales yesterday, Garden Grove's Argonauts rolled to a 20-0 victory over San Juan Capistrano. The Cougars were unable to check Garden Grove's passing attack, sparked by Art Berry. Jim Okuda, Garden Grove halfback, suffered a broken leg on the first play of the game.

Laguna Beach's scrappy Artists routed little Valencia, 33 to 6, at Laguna, with Coach Maurice Guyer's preps rolling up 13 points in the first quarter and 14 in the second for a 27-6 lead at the intermission.

Sunset league play was featured by Long Beach Jordan's 13-6 victory over Excelsior for the title, and by two touchdown-films in which Anaheim swamped Orange, 26 to 6, at Anaheim, and Huntington Beach outpointed Newport Harbor in a 35-19 thriller at Huntington Beach. Rimpau scored three of Anaheim's touchdowns.

Down at Huntington Beach, Louie Garcia of the Oilers intercepted a Newport pass on Huntington Beach's 8-yard line and rammed to the 40, tossed a lateral to Bob Swigart who rammed 60 yards for a Huntington Beach touchdown. The play was good for 92 yards. Ray Cook of the Oilers intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for another Oilers touchdown. Pulgencio was the star of the Newport eleven. FULLERTON J. C. MISSES 12 LETTERMEN BY GRADUATION

FULLERTON. — Twelve Fullerton Junior college football lettermen will lose their meekskins for the last time under Hornet colors when Coach Wendell Pickens' gridders face Santa Ana Junior college in the annual "Turkey day" game next Thursday in the Fullerton stadium at 2 p. m.

The two teams will be on even terms, both outfits having lost two conference games, although the Santa Ana Dons have only one conference win to their credit, having tied Pomona and Riverside earlier in the season.

Fullerton's main loss will be at the ends, where Don Winters and Ray Handel leave the first string positions vacant. Jay Moody, who has seen considerable action at the wing spot, also graduates. Both centers, Ralph Pyron and Jerry Ganong, finish their careers next Thursday.

Jaysee Crown Won By San Bernardino

Chaffey Beaten By 7-6 Score; Indians Rally In Fourth

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California's two junior college football titleholders were decided today: San Bernardino in the eastern conference; Pasadena and Santa Monica in the west.

San Bernardino and Chaffey, which have been making a ding-dong race of it all season, climaxed it last night with a struggle which the Indians won, 7-6, rallying in the last quarter to wipe out a 6-0 Chaffey lead. Verdeck boot the extra point to give San Bernardino the title.

Neither team was able to score in the first half. Chaffey came back in the third quarter, tallying on a line plunge by Flannes. Hal Finney, ace Indian back, scored the San Bernardino touchdown.

Pasadena, only unbeaten J. C. outfit in the Southern, turned in a 33-6 win over Glendale with fast Jackie Robinson again engineering the Bulldogs' drive to victory. The Bulldogs do not meet Santa Monica, also undefeated in league play, and hence will share the western title. Santa Monica invaded the eastern division to top Pomona, 18-14.

In other games, Bakersfield outclassed Taft, 20-0; Santa Ana tied Santa Mateo, 6-6 and Long Beach bowed to Santa Barbara State college frosh, 13-20. On today's schedule was a homecoming clash at which Compton played host to Ventura.

F.J.C. Cagers Barnstorming Tour Planned

FULLERTON. — Better than even chances for another Eastern conference basketball championship for Fullerton Junior college were forecast on the local campus this week as potential cage stars started limbering up for the coming basketball season. Although official practice cannot start for some time yet, according to a conference regulation, several students have been working out nightly under the direction of Captain Tom Keesey.

The Hornet team will face Pomona college in the opening game of the season on Dec. 2 in the Fullerton gym. It will be a benefit game to raise funds to send the Fullerton squad on a northern trip, on which Taft, Salinas, Modesto, and another junior college will be Coach Art Nunn's squad's opponents.

Lettermen Keesey, Stacy and Joyner will form the nucleus of this year's squad. Others who have shown more than the usual amount of skill are Bobby Galt, Tim, diminutive forward from York, Pa., Sam and Hyman Freedman of York, Bill Brennan of Iowa, Johnny Holmes and Ray Null of Whittier, and Bill and Bob White, much sought-after six-foot-six from Excelsior.

Pros Outdrawing College Elevens In N. Y. Interest

NEW YORK. (AP)—The play-for-pay footballers are threatening to take the interest away from the college stars here this week.

Not one of the metropolitan teams looks anything like a champion this season and 25,000 probably will be the top attendance for any of today's local games.

The New York Giants, on the other hand, are busy denying reports of a sellout for their battle with the Green Bay Packers Sunday. Advance sales indicate, however, they won't be far away.

The Giants are leading the National league's eastern division and need a victory to stay ahead of the Washington Redskins. The Packers already have clinched a tie for the western division title and will be out to win it outright. For an added attraction, the Chicago Bears meet the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbetts field.

Modesto Captures Jaysee Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Unde-feated Modesto Junior college holds the Northern California Junior college conference today by virtue of a 21 to 0 win over San Francisco Junior college last night. Touchdown runs by Jack Bradley, Faco Paletta and Don Toland accounted for the Modesto scoring.

Santa Ana's Rally Ended By Gun On Rival 1-Yd. Line

SAN MATEO. — With two of their rallies ending on the 1-yard line in the fourth quarter, Santa Ana's Dons of the Eastern conference were held to a 6-6 deadlock by Santa Mateo Junior college in a hard-fought football game here yesterday.

Coach Bill Cook's Dons left for San Francisco last night, planned to see today's California-Stanford game in Berkeley before leaving tonight for Santa Ana. They will arrive home early Sunday morning.

RIVALS SCORE FIRST
 After being outplayed in the first quarter, Santa Mateo got off to an auspicious start in the second period when Ed Huff, full-back, intercepted Larry Monroy's pass on Santa Ana's 44-yard line and returned to the Dons' 26. On the first play of the series, Huff passed to Willie Silva, quarterback, for a touchdown. Silva's conversion kick was blocked.

The Dons came back to deadlock the score 6-6 in the third quarter. Taking the ball in their own territory, they punched across four consecutive first downs, and Carroll Joy, quarterback, swept wide around right end to score from the 3-yard line.

Both clubs threatened in the second quarter. The Dons intercepted a pass on their own 15, and with Monroy and Ed Heinisch lugging the ball, marched to San Mateo's 42-yard line before punting. The quick-kicking of Noah Curtis, San Mateo's left half, kept the Dons worried. Shortly after Santa Ana's drive in the second quarter, Curtis quick-kicked to Santa Ana's 10-yard line. A clipping penalty set the Dons back to the 1-yard line. Rollo Beck punted, with San Mateo returning the ball to the Dons' 21. In three plays, Huff gained a first down on Santa Ana's 11. Huff gained to the 4-yard line, where the Dons held San Mateo on downs. Beck attempted a pass from his own 15, but it was intercepted by Santa Ana's 14, Lynn Arnett, however, pulled the Dons out of a hole by intercepting a San Mateo pass over the goal for a touchdown.

THREATEN IN FOURTH
 Early in the fourth quarter, Santa Ana threatened to break the deadlock. From the Dons' 15, Carroll Joy faded back and passed to Ted DeVellis to Santa Mateo's 35-yard line. Joy rammed through and around the line for two first downs to Santa Mateo's 6. Heinisch ploughed to the 3-yard line, and a short pass from Joy to DeVellis planted the ball on San Mateo's 1-yard line, where the Dons lost the ball on downs.

With only seconds of play remaining, Co-Capt. Larry Timken caught a pass from Quarterback Don Borden from Santa Ana's 29-yard line and rammed down the sidelines where he was downed on San Mateo's 1-yard mark as the gun sounded, ending another rally.

The Dons arrived home tomorrow morning, will return to drill at the Municipal bowl Monday afternoon for their Thanksgiving day struggle with Fullerton's Yellowjackets on the Fullerton field next Thursday afternoon... This game will close the Eastern conference schedules for both elevens.

Citrus Market

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—California oranges were higher, and lemons slightly higher at eastern and mid-western auction centers this week.

Oranges brought an average of $14 per box, 60 cents more than last week, as sales decreased 87 cars to a total of 332 cars.

Lemons brought an average of $59, eight cents more than last total of 114 cars. For the second consecutive week, fruit will be sold in the United States, following failure of the citrus marketing agreement to set a figure.

A. E. Prugh, local representative of the federal-state market news service, reported price range per cwt for oranges and lemons in Pacific coast cities, as follows:

Portland oranges: 176s and larger, $.35 to $.40; smaller sizes, $.75 to $.325. Lemons: choice grades 432s, $.25.

San Francisco oranges: Valencia wrapped 150s and larger $2.80 to $.30; 176s and 200s, $.25 to $.50. Lemons: 588s and larger, $.50 to $.40.

The California Fruit Growers
association's sales department reported the valencia orange market rather for the week under offers about one half the volume of previous weeks. The exchange statement said:

There are not over 500 cars of valencias left for sale after Nov.

Florida orange and grapefruit prices were heavier, reaching 100 cars of oranges with grapefruit shipments from all states up to 1150 cars for the week.

Preliminary surveys indicate a by percent cold weather of 15 25 per cent of an estimated 1000 car central-northern California crop.

Navel orange shipments from California and Arizona this week will not exceed 200 cars and next week's movement is expected to reach not over 600 cars.

The lemon market improved in price and volume of sales over the previous week. The following day by day auction averages per car were as follows:

CARNEGIE'S

Day-By-Day Philosophy

LET US BE FIRST

It's about that season of the year, so let The Journal be first to wish you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

OLD WISE CRACK, BUT STILL FUNNY

That Los Angeles school teacher who has been teaching the court the merits of slacks has, we must admit, never been without visible means of support.

A NEGLECTED ISSUE

In Arkansas Jay Rowland ran for the state senate on a platform promising free goat glands for men aged 60 years or more. That's one issue we didn't have on our ballot this month.

AND, WHO'S EIGGENARTIC NOW?

Germans say that the American attitude toward their persecution of the Jews is eiggenartic. That word falls far short of expressing what the Americans think about this latest outbreak of Hitlerphobia.

BEST WISHES FOR COSTA MESA

Costa Mesans, rightly, are proud of their fine new $10,000 fire hall. About the best wish we can extend to that delightful town is that cobwebs grow over the big wide doors of the building.

TOO MUCH TERRITORY

And then there was the tough colored boy who went into Texas from Arkansas looking for trouble, and they sent him back the next day in a box. Which only goes to prove that Texas is a big state, and our ambitions often take in too much territory.

WANTED: ONE SOLUTION

It seems not to have occurred to those executives who are selling oranges that they won't have any to sell unless they get the producer a profit. It doesn't take any courage to stand up and say "we'll fight" as long as the rancher's money holds out. What the rancher wants is a solution, not a shippers' slugging match.

FUTURE PIONEERS

The younger men who attended the golden jubilee of the chamber of commerce will be the pioneers at the next half century celebration. Time makes pioneers out of all of us who remain long enough. So keep the blood stream clean, your chin up, and faith strong. Santa Ana will be shaking hands with Los Angeles some of these days.

ANOTHER DAY OF THANKS

That annual festival—Thanksgiving day—set apart in 1621 by Governor Bradford when the people paused to thank Providence for the harvest, arrives again in the annual cycle next Thursday. The ancient history of the day is traced back to the Canaanites who, after they had gathered their crops, held a feast in "the house of their God."

IDEA SHOULD WORK BOTH WAYS

If Hitler is able to collect his $400,000,000 fine on the Jews of Germany, he will be demonstrating a new way for a government to raise quick money in large chunks; that is, by levying assessments against minorities. We can vision the large howls that would come from Berlin if some other nation tried this system on a German minority.

NEEDED: A NEW JOB FOR HARRY

Washington reports the rumor that Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, will be appointed to the cabinet, possibly as secretary of commerce. One thing, at least, can be said in favor of such a change. It would put him in a position where it would not be quite so grossly improper for him to exercise what he considers his talents as a politician.

JAPAN'S "IDEAS AND PRINCIPLES"

Japan long ago slammed the "open door" of China to all other nations but only yesterday intimated as much by declaring that the "ideas and principles of the past" no longer apply to the "new situation" in China. Japan's own "ideas and principles" never change inasmuch as her sworn word is no good and her treaties made only to be broken as she pursues her ambition to conquer most of Asia.

JUST OUR OPINION

For no particular reason except that we're soundly convinced of the logic of our opinion, we arise to remark that we believe the American Legion leaders and other sound Americans are right when they insist that Harry Bridges should be tried and, if the charges against him are established after a fair trial, he should be deported. Having so declared ourselves, we feel better.

IT'S REALLY REMARKABLE

One of the greatest cases of persistence in modern history is the determination of the great Los Angeles Times in referring to Boulder dam as "Hoover dam." The strange part of the situation is that the only case of persistence approaching The Times' mighty record occurred a few years ago with the same two words, but then they were reversed.

NEW YORK.—Writing about religious and racial hatred 30 years ago, Mark Twain claimed to be innocent of all such prejudice and said:

"All that I care to know is that man is a human being—that is enough for me; he can't be any worse."

This is a rather despondent opinion of the breed, but a tempting criticism at a time when nature and the earth still are performing handsomely, but about, nevertheless, because in the words of another American journalist, only man is vile. There is nothing wrong with the world that couldn't be cured by the exercise of those superior traits to which man alone lays claim but which are more conspicuously flouted by man than by any of the beasts. Yet there are still occasional flickers of the pulse of decency and conscience which gave reason to go on hoping that the human race may one day conquer the poison in its veins.

LOSS OF FACE

Amid the normal and nervous shocks of the Nazi atrocities of last week a subtle but hopeful development has almost escaped notice. For the first time since Hitler came to power there is a feeling of pity for the German people and for Germany. This comes of an honest belief that the Germans themselves have suffered more than they yet know in degradation and loss of self-respect. The Germans are not original. The violent acts and conspiracies which the evil imagination of their captains could conjure against the objects of the terror have been far exceeded by the conduct of the Nazi state, and the feeling of intelligent Germans will be that of an intelligent man who in a self-induced fury seizes a stick and beats his dog until he lies bleeding, shamed and moaning at his feet.

No man, not insane, no man of the character and pride of the Germans, can do that and escape a dreadful inner conviction that he has debased himself. And the German people, so proud of their race and their country and eager for the respect of the world, will have that reaction when they look at the blood on their hands.

A PULSEBEAT

Nobody in Germany as yet may dare express this revulsion but it has been expressed by the New Yorker Staats-Zeitung and Herold, which said, "in the names of our dear ones, we protest against the actions of the German name through fanatics in the ranks of the party in power who are trying to drag a great people into the mire of their sadistic lowliness." A pulsebeat.

Realization is coming at last among the Americans who inherit and take pride in the German character that the Nazi regime is debasing that character at home and disgracing the German country before the world. This is no trivial matter, for the Nazis have turned the moral support of these Americans, and they will not be able to disregard condemnation from this source.

The German people at home may share the hatred of this country as a nation which has been fixed up by the Nazi propaganda but they will still be sensitive to the opinion of their relatives here, which will filter through to them regardless of the censorship. And it is hard to see how the Steuben societies can avoid taking a similar stand, for obviously the German man name is suffering more from the conduct of Goebbels than from any propaganda from the toes or victims of the Reich.

"SHAKE"

Like many officers charged with the duty of training America's rookie soldiers in World War days, Gen. Leonard Wood, for the sake of discipline, assumed a rather gruff, forbidding exterior, without always feeling that way underneath. His ready imagination and sympathy made him understand the bewilderment of the rookies, so unaccustomed to the ordered discipline and respect of rank belonging to the army, and he was always willing to make allowances.

On one occasion a boy ambled up to the general as he stood beside his car. No salute.

"How long have you been in camp?" asked Wood.

"Three weeks," replied the rookie. "And how long have you been here?"

When General Wood had explained his position, the soldier was shocked into action. "Well, I never!" he exclaimed. "I sure am in wrong. Please let's shake hands and forget it."

Out of the corner of his eye the General glimpsed the face of a watchful sergeant, grim with foreboding disaster for the rash young soldier. Without hesitation he extended his hand.

"It was hardly discipline," General Wood remarked later; "but I'd have been a cad if I hadn't shaken hands with him."—Christian Science Monitor.

The Orange Realty Board received the Santa Ana Realty board and real estate men from Anaheim last evening at a meeting which was called to form preliminary plans for the organization of a county realty board. The meeting took place at the office of the W. M. Whitney Realty company.

Proving that unlucky thirteen is considered a "bogey" of the past, thirteen prominent Santa Ana men met in Mr. Fred Ely's office on last evening to organize a Round Table for the purpose of philosophical discussion. The membership was limited to 13, the members being E. M. Nealley, Rev. Fred Staff, Rev. R. S. Chase, Rev. Francis Watry, Emory R. Clark, Charles H. Stearns, A. B. Gardner, Fred Raftery, L. P. Hickox, A. J. Crookshank, A. J. Perkins, Fred Ely and E. L. Sumner.

Botanists are seriously considering how to improve the corn plant. Perhaps that does not sound extraordinary. Plant breeders are continually busy improving vegetables and fruits. Why mention corn?

The extraordinary fact regarding corn is this: For 400 years, while men in America have used the Indians' greatest gift almost the way Indian farmers gave it to them. The only notable changes, according to J. H. Kempton, botanist of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, are that while men have discarded the heavy red, blue, and black colors of Indian corn, and have made the crop more uniform by preserving the best of the Indian product.

This does not mean that our corn is primitive, poor stuff. Far from it.

Mr. Kempton, who discusses our use of this inherited plant in the Smithsonian Institution's annual report, pays high tribute to the success of Indian farmers with the corn plant. He suggests that the Indian may have done a better job with corn because he was not trying at the same time to improve domestic animals. But whatever the Indian's secret, it is the botanist's verdict that "he created the world's most highly developed grain."

Yet greater things are predicted for corn. When scientists became aroused to the importance of Gregor Mendel's experiments with sweet peas, and realized that laws of heredity had been worked out in garden flowers, then the corn plant became a favorite subject for the great new study of inheritance in plants. The amazing corn plant has shown hundreds of mutations. Possibility of improving the well known varieties is evident, as the study of gene interaction advances.

Even now, Mr. Kempton states: "Hybrids far surpassing the best varieties have been obtained, and a system devised for their commercial use." (Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)

IT'S A LONG WAIT

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Ten days of grim cogitation on the election returns has resulted in three definite decisions by the president and his inner circle advisers.

1. No more reform or experimental proposals.
2. Militant resistance against attacks on major New Deal agencies, such as WPA, National Labor Relations board, TVA.
3. A 1939 legislative program confined solely to national defense and to social and economic security measures.

What No. 1 and No. 2 mean is abandonment of secret plans to revise the government reorganization bill and to begin new assaults on the supreme court. Until the unexpected republican sweep hit them like a blow between the eyes, White House strategists were all set to rekindle the reorganization battle and other reform moves. But these measures they had so confidently prepared are now deadlier than last year's snobs.

Although it's a bitter dose for them to swallow, the New Dealers have made up their minds that not only are new experiments out from now on, but they will have to fight desperately to hold what they have already put on the law books.

To offset the expected attack they will plunk a broad scale defense and social program in the lap of the new congress. With this strategy they hope to draw the opposition's teeth by forcing it to show its hand, and by putting it in the position of holding up unpopular legislation in order to play partisan politics. Also they hope to put through a big spending program in disguised form.

MILITANT ROOSEVELT

Whatever the president's private misgivings may be in his chats with advisers and friends he still displays a militant temper. A remark to Gov. Frank Murphy, defeated Michigan democrat, summed up his attitude:

"We'll have to trim our sails to meet the new set-up, but we are not retreating a fraction of an inch in our fundamentals. We'll keep straight to the line on them and we have implicit confidence that the country will be with us."

WHITE HOUSE PROGRAM

Chief features of the legislative program that is being worked out in the White House are as follows:

1. A national defense plan to hold firm from now and a half to two billion dollars.
2. A new clam clearance and low-cost housing program, spending $500 to 750 millions.
3. A medical plan, for which the emergency fund has already been laid in the justice department's money, the suit against the American Medical Association. This would also cost between 500 and 750 million dollars.
4. Broadening of the old age pension system by an increase in payments, lowering of the age limit from 65 to 60 years, and adding benefits for widows and dependent children.
5. A new farm bill that discards Secretary Wallace's cherished but unpopular crop control theories, and substitutes a "cost of production" formula still to be worked out.
6. A railroad rescue bill forcing concessions and drastic financial house cleanings, with government loans for new equipment and improvements.

ABOUT HITLER, PEGLER, ETC.

To the Editor:—Your editorials are good or at least most of them. "Who said shush!" caused one to switch Santa Ana papers. Quite important it disturbed the comfortable status quo around the courthouse.

I like Pegler except sometimes. Also the Merry-Go-Round, I hope you all keep your jobs.

I have not had time to file any protests to the Mailbag.

There are a lot of otherwise perfectly good neighbors around me that can't see the light even when I show it to them.

Can't help you about Hitler, you will just have to say you don't know.

It begins to look as if some of his agents had hi-jacked a dress of Joan of Arc's and a suit of Napoleon's and he was trying to wear both at once. The Germans here are not without a sense of humor. Maybe there is some left over there. A laugh from the inside might prove too much for the G. P. W.

France To Start Air Service Over Atlantic In January, Report

PARIS.—(By Science Service)—Delivery of two new Loire et Olier 47 flying boats to Air France two months sooner than expected will permit of a limited air passenger service across the south Atlantic crossing the Atlantic. Four passengers and 1,300 pounds of mail and express will be carried in the planes, which take a crew of five to operate them. The operations of Pan-American and of their other foreign rivals are geared to much larger planes, capable of carrying far more passengers and freight.

Provided Pan-American airways, the leading American overseas air transport candidate, does not get under way with its huge Boeing clippers before then, the line will be the first passenger line crossing the Atlantic.

Submerged Canyon In Lake Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(By Science Service)—Submerged canyons are not all beneath the sea. There is one, of quite respectable dimensions, drowned under the waters of the northern end of Lake Michigan, states Dr. George M. Stanley of the University of Michigan, in the current Journal of Geology.

Cut steeply into the more gradually sloping lake bottom, the valley winds like the channel of a river, and was without doubt formed by the action of a stream before or during the glacial age. The bottom of the channel varies from 150 feet to as much as 300 feet below lake level. It continues on into Lake Huron, and just beyond Mackinac Island it widens out into the deep basin of what was the ancestor of Lake Huron in the days before the ice age.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

Napoleon Bonaparte never let his own aides know how much he worried from the losses sustained in battle. After the disastrous Russian campaign, Napoleon was one day lamenting the fact that so many men had died of cold in Russia, never mentioning those lost in battle.

A courier wished to add his bit, and elaborate on the losses, so he said: "We have indeed sustained a severe loss." "Yes," replied Napoleon coldly, "Madame Barilli (an opera singer) is dead."

OUCH!

The dean of girls paused in the doorway of the study hall. Instantly a hush settled over the room. Voices were stifled, but not the jaws. These kept right on working.

In answer to her prolonged and disapproving survey, the supervisor spoke up. "Isn't it disgraceful the way these pupils chaw gum? I tell them I don't know what they do look like with their jaws going up and down, up and down."

"I do," came the dean's prompt reply, "a dairy."

SAD CASE

The child of rich parents saw a number of youngsters streaming across the street in front of her car.

"Poor little children," she reflected. "I suppose they've got no nurses—only mothers."

BURGLAR ALARM

A novel burglar alarm being marketed, combines the alarm part of an alarm clock with a door stop which prevents the door from being opened more than a few inches. The device may be fastened to a window, also, to prevent it being raised more than an inch or so. The bell rings for a minute and a half when disturbed.

YESSIR

I once had a classmate named Guesser, Whose knowledge got lesser and lesser.

It at last grew so small He knew nothing at all— And now he's a college professor.

—Kitty-Kat.

When Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd was 12 years old, he wrote in his diary:

"I have decided to be the first man to reach the North pole."

And immediately he began in his boyish way to toughen himself for the adventure. He discarded his heavy underwear in mid-winter and refused to wear an overcoat! The toughening did no good; Admiral Peary reached the North pole first.

He entered the navy, but suffered an accident, in which his ankle was crushed. He hobbled around as best he could, but the officials didn't want a lame man in the United States navy. So they dismissed him as physically unfit at the age of 23.

Was Dick Byrd discouraged? Of course he was!

A bit hard on the boy who had started in to toughen himself up for discovering the North pole. Next he devoted himself to aviation and applied to the government for permission to pilot one of the planes in which Amundsen was to fly over the Arctic ice. The government refused; the North was no place for a cripple.

He started in, then, on an entirely different track, and raised the money privately to make real the dream he had dreamed so long. And he was the first man to fly over the North pole. At last, success was his! So he turned around and was the first man to fly over the South pole. Then the United States government conferred the title of admiral on him just 14 years after it had kicked him out of the navy. Fate is often like that.

Will "an apple a day keep the doctor away?" Not if you have peritonitis or a streptococcal infection.

But an apple a day will do much toward supplying the vital vitamins you need; and, what is extremely important it will help the body to eliminate its waste more readily and efficiently.

So eat an apple every day; a baked apple for breakfast; apple sauce as a vegetable at lunch; or apple pie for dinner. Eat more apples—and you will feel better.

Columnist Bob Da is signed an extraordinary contract to write a daily newspaper column entitled "Bob Davis Reveals." His is a column requiring traveling in order to get material; so the contract stipulates that he can be fined a certain number of dollars for every day he spends in his New York office.

Wouldn't it be a good idea if some sales managers borrowed that idea and fined their salesmen for every hour they spend in their offices?

Remember, you who sell, that the only time you can earn money is the time you spend talking to a prospect about your product. How many minutes do you spend each day, talking to such prospects? Don't know? Isn't it highly important for you to keep a daily record for a few weeks and find out? Remember, you have nothing to sell except time.

Conductor: "Where to?"

Frosh: "Can't tell you. It's a surprise party."

ILL TELL YOU....

BY BOB BURNS

A lot of people think I'm crude because I don't go for antique furniture. As far as I'm concerned, modern furniture not only looks better—it's a whole lot more comfortable to sit in.

Some time ago I bought an antique chair thinkin' maybe I might get used to it and form a taste for it. The other day I happened to go into the parlor and when I saw that antique chair sittin' there, I called the housekeeper in and I says "Look at that chair—the seat is covered with dust!" The housekeeper says "Well, why shouldn't it be—nobody has sat in the blamed thing for months!"
